SISTER CITY DELEGATION TO PEACE COMMUNITIES IN COLOMBIA

TRAVEL with Dane County/Apartado from MARCH 21 THRU 28 to meet members of two Peace Communities in northern Colombia. These are towns who have responded to the war and terror of globalization by refusing to become refugees. Instead the people of San Jose de Apartado and Caracica have declared neutrality and pacifism, found international and clerical witnesses to their truth. Overcoming all manner of hardships, they have stayed on or returned to their lands. This will be a fascinating and intensely emotional outing!

The eight day trip is built around CELEBRATING THE 4TH ANNIVERSARY OF SURVIVAL OF SAN JOSE and will deliver your check, proceeds from the FREEZE for FOOD! Just in 2000, eleven of their members have been assassinated. Last month the Army planted landmines (first time) in cornfields. We want to send 5 delegates to show Dane County's support for their traditional small farmer lifestyle and their struggle to heal from constant assaults. San Jose is about cocoa, not coca!

Chicago's sister nearby, Caracica, was evacuated by gunpoint in 1997. 3000 refugees stayed together and insisted the government protect their return. The visit to Caracica includes a half day boat trip and rainforest hike. The Caracica people were an isolated culture descended from runaway slaves. Barely touched by the money economy, they lived by the river for 200 years until suddenly the US lost control of the Panama Canal making their territory a coveted piece of real estate. RPCV's, see for yourselves!

Join this delegation sponsored by Colombia Support Network! 257-8753. The cost is $2100 complete.

Editor's Spot

Please note E-MAIL address change!

March looks to be a great month with the celebration of the Peace Corps 40th Anniversary. I do hope that many of you will be able to participate in some form whether it be on the UW campus or at your local school or at the big celebration in D.C. I do understand that some of us (Kevin and I included) did not receive ‘official invitations’ to the dinner but PLEASE don’t let that keep you for joining in for Thursdays round tables and for Friday nights dance.

I do want to state here: Thank You to all those who helped in the planning, organizing and setting up for this fine event. And Thank You to those who contributed articles, histories, and other pertinent information that helped make this and all newsletters and the 40th Anniversary Supplement possible.

More Cuba Report next month...
For those who don’t see this I will have the old account active for a while to check for incoming messages, but I will only check it once ON THE DEADLINE DATE (this stressed to those who are habitually late.)

Returned Peace Corps Volunteers of Wisconsin/Madison
General Meeting February 6 (and 10th)

We met at Union South, with 28 present; our Prez, Tom Brodd, presided ably. We hastened through our meeting, so we could linger over the First Slide Viewing.

We signed up for tasks at the Peace Corps 40th Anniversary Celebration, in March. Peter Joyce sent us word that the January Freeze For Food Run has so far raised $3079, with some more committed pledges yet to trickle in. We applauded Peter, with some left-over hand claps for ourselves. (The proceeds will go to the Colombia Support Network.)

Cathy Silvern was present, speaking for the Madison Friends of International Students. This is a UW campus organization, 40 years old (!); they invite us to colleague with them. There are many particular things we can do to help students from abroad, especially those from the kinds of places we know well (the snowless not-at-all-like-Wisconsin places)--warm coats loaned, temporary hospitality, guff and a supper, help with English, a friendly word when the US seems ever so strange, and sympathetic advice when the INS and the rest of our government's people act just like the counterparts in their own badly governed countries)... (Phone MFIS, 608/263-4010.)

Second, Cathy Silvern urges us to think of how we and MFIS can colleague. They urge that we both, along with other allied groups, should gather sometime soon, to brainstorm, in an amiable setting, with food, and soft chairs. Perhaps in April or May.

We should discuss this among ourselves, and arrange to meet with them.

Judy Kader, just back from PC/Senegal, was on hand to say that she is still involved with programs in Senegal, and is active in the "Senegalise Education Fund." And seeks our assistance; though money would be only an extra fillup. The Fund further works she was involved with, to wit: (a) scholarships for higher education; (b) "Girls Clubs," which help those girls who don't get any formal education at all--teaching them basic survival skills (like using a pencil, and the fundamentals of sanitation, nutrition, and health). Judy needs a US tax-exempt umbrella for this Fund, and asks if our group can provide it. (The Fund already has a steering committee, by-laws, etc.; most members are in Milwaukee.)

Our tentative Answer: Yes, this seems a good idea, and there's no inherent obstacle to us serving as an umbrella. This must be discussed further, the lawyers in our group should analyze the proposition, and a group of West Africa RPCVs should study it and make a recommendation to the group. We'll discuss this at the March or April meetings, and then follow up.

Judy will be in touch with Tom, our Prez.

Marc Brand got us all to sign up to attend at East High School, to talk about Peace Corps, on March 1.

And then we looked at Slides, submitted for the 2001 International Calendar. There were about 300 to view. Most were excellent; so we really enjoyed viewing them. We each voted on which ones we felt were potentially suitable for the next Calendar.

Subsequently, the top 50 or so were then segregated for the Second Viewing.

And then, on Saturday, Feb. 10, we gathered again (at Sophia Zermuehlin's house, with great gratitude to Sophia), and viewed the top vote-getters, and we each voted on our favorite 13 or so slides. At the end of the day we had a pool of about 17 slides for the artistic and layout mavins [you could be one, if you want] to assemble into the 2002 Calendar. Everyone was satisfied with the short-list of possibles (13, plus slack in case of defective or unmanageable images), and everyone declared themselves content with whatever selection would result from the short-list. The 2002 Calendar will be excellent! There'll be a great variety of nifty scenes, countries, and stories. And a monk with cats. And probably a camel.

--La, Buck Trawicky
Calendar Steering Committee.

The January 22nd meeting was a large group which included Kristy Torres, Troy Rutter, Rose Ann Scott, Lee Row, Jenny Guerne, Pat Halpern, Prudence Barber, Alan Weiner, Julita Zolnik, Rochelle Goedken, Buck Trawicky, Jo Thompson, and president Tom Brod.

We were such a large group that we introduced ourselves to each other. Jo Thompson announced that Marc Brand will be organizing meetings of high school students and speakers on foreign subjects at East High on March 6th. Anyone with slides, objects, things to say, etc. should get in touch with Marc at 255.1339 (he's in the book) to arrange a time.

Jo also volunteered to be the new Photo Coordinator Guy & we all cheered and discussed more appropriate titles. Ideas should be sent to the editor. rpcveditor@jvlnet.com

We discussed what we should do with leftover calendars. We can give more to World Wise Schools. There's a new group of teachers organized by the NPCA, Global Teachnet, that could probably use calendars. Rochelle will contact them to see if they will pay postage if we donate calendars. We can offer calendars as gifts to those who attend the 40th anniversary party at the Memorial Union on March 2nd. We'll ask.

For the Friday, March 2nd celebration at the Union we were asked to write a few words about what Peace Corps has meant to each of us, which will be read as part of the ceremony that night.

We talked about what to do with proceeds from calendar sales. First we'll set aside enough for next year's calendar (the 2002 one) and then we'll send 10% of what's left to the NPCA & 20% to Peace Corps Partnerships. That will leave us enough for a good giftaway. Walt will take care of the formalities of getting the proposal for the giftaway published in the newsletter for our review, before we vote on it at the March meeting. Walt also has project proposal forms if you want to sponsor a project. It's also rumored that the forms will soon be on the web site where Dean Jefferson has built us a nice presence. Stop by at www.geocities.com/wirpcv and check it out. You can also print out a membership form there, should you need one.

Tom Brodd reported that a committee has been established to study the idea of setting up a foundation with calendar money and will report its finding soon.

We talked about specifications for the calendar - whether it should be bigger or smaller, the type of paper it's printed on, ideas for brochures, and then decided we'd really have to wait until slides are chosen to make definitive decisions. Marketing was also a topic. Prudence is working with a calendar wholesaler to sell millions of our calendars - if they will only market them in more likely places than rural towns in northern Wisconsin. We had tea & talk & went our separate ways. The next calendar committee meeting is 7 p.m. February 27th at Prudence's house, 1050 Jenifer St. All are welcome.
DISTRIBUTION OF CALENDAR PROCEEDS

It's time to start the process for distributing the proceeds of the 2001 Calendar. All requests for donations must come from currently paid up members (so pay your dues if you haven't yet). Giftaway and other small donation requests must be submitted on one of our donation request forms. (It's the same form we used last year and is the first page of this newsletter.) Anyone who would like additional forms can copy the first page (it's two-sided) or contact me (Walt Zeltner, 393 Lake Kegonsa Road, Oregon, WI 53575; Home: 608/873-5257; Work: 608/262-1321; FAX: 608/262-0454; Email: zeltner@engr.wisc.edu). Forms will also be available at future meetings of the group. Please try to get all forms to me by the end of the April group meeting.

I will send a special mailing to all members that lists all requests that have been received. At the April meeting we'll form a committee to consider the requests. This committee will recommend projects to be funded and the amount of funding for each project. Generally, I publish this information in the newsletter you receive at the end of April, so that the funding requests can be voted on at the May meeting of the group. If this can't be done for some reason, the recommendations will be available at the May meeting. Two more points. 1) If you are requesting a donation to be sent overseas, you MUST provide us with a reasonable means of getting the money to the recipient. We won't fund a project unless we feel confident that the money will get where it is needed. 2) If you request a donation, you should also consider how that particular project can provide information to us about the way that they used our donation. I collect the feedback we get and pass it on to Sheila Przesmicki, who ensures that we publish it in the newsletter.

Some background for new members. The Calendar Operating Committee will decide how much of the proceeds from the 2001 calendar should be set aside to pay for expenses associated with producing the 2002 calendar. The remaining amount is returned to the group for distribution to worthy causes. (Hopefully, this amount will be determined at the March meeting of the committee.) This money is split into three pots. 1) One pot provides relatively small donations (last year the typical donation was $450) to projects that are recommended by our members and that could make good use of a few hundred dollars. We call this the Giftaway and try to handle these donations in one block at our May group meeting. Specific details about submitting a proposal for funding in the Giftaway can be found elsewhere in this newsletter. 2) The second pot covers requests for donations at other times of the year after the Giftaway has occurred. This pot is also used to pay the set-up costs for the Freeze for Food, which ran about $750 this year. 3) The third pot is set aside for long-term uses. If we invest the money and let it build up, we can use the interest to fund other projects. Or we can use this money to fund projects that require larger amounts of money. (For anyone interested, I can provide details on the procedure to follow for requesting funds for larger projects.)

In the past we have funded several large projects, including $3,100 to the Community Garden Program in Madison, $7,000 to fund an Ashoka fellow, $5,000 for partial support of a Tiller's Intl project in Tanzania, two $5,000 donations for building schoolrooms in Vietnam, and several donations of $1,000. Last year we had $40,000 to donate and put $10,000 in the Giftaway (and approved about $10,200 in donations), $1,000 for donations for the rest of the year, and $29,000 for long-term and/or large project uses. Other break-downs may be more sensible. In any event, the group has to approve the particular amounts to be spent before we spend them. Regarding the long-term and/or large project uses, we are already committed, by motions passed in Spring 2000 meetings, to donate 10% of the donation money to the NPCA to help with their programs and 20% of the donation money to Peace Corps Partnership projects that we select. Several of us also submit a request for a large donation to one of the projects sponsored by the Ashoka Society. (Buck can provide more info about that group if you grab him at one of our events.) To conclude, it sounds like we have a lot of money to donate, but about $30,000 of the $40,000 was committed up front to specific items. One or two additional large projects (e.g., support for any of Mike Boehm's Vietnam projects) will use up the remainder fast.

By the way, if any other member would like to chair the distribution of proceeds, I'd be happy to pass on this job.

Bowl for Kids' Sake.

My name is Matt Becker and I’m a recently returned RPCV from Kyrgyzstan. I moved to Madison after my service and now I’m working with Big Brothers Big Sisters. Our agency matches children from single parent families to caring adult volunteers. Our goal is to form close mentoring friendships. Coming up at the end of April we have our biggest fundraiser of the year - Bowl for Kids' Sake.

Bowl for Kids' Sake runs from April 28 to May 4. Participants collect pledges from sponsors and then enjoy a night of free bowling and shoe rental, red pin prizes and other fun. I thought maybe some Peace Corps folks would like to form teams (a team has up to six people) and bowl. Also, we have lots of promotional flyers and posters to put up at your place of business. If you could form a team from co-workers or other friends, that would be great too!

Please call the office if this sounds interesting or if you have any questions. You can ask for me (Matt), but anybody should be able to help you. Our number is 661-5437. We can send out pledge sheets, posters and flyers to anyone interested. It’s a fun night out and it’s for a good cause, so I encourage you to get involved. Thanks a lot!

Web Site

Dean Jefferson has created a webpage for us at the NPCA website. You can see it by going to www.rpcv.org & clicking on Affiliated Groups & then Affiliated groups again & then scroll through the country groups to the location groups & find Madison & click on that. Or go directly there by typing in: www.rpcv.org/pages/groupinfo.cfm?id=73&category=2

The Editor and Dean are working on putting an electronic copy of the newsletter on the web site. There will be links to previous editions so one can check on giftaways and the like.

"Expanding Our World View"

The last presentation of a series of three by UW international students on a variety of subjects concerning social and economic issues in their home countries. March 15, 7:00pm - On-Wisconsin Room, 716 Langdon St. (Red Gym) - a panel discussion on the changing role of women since the 1970s in Sri Lanka and several other countries. Light refreshments will be served.

For more information, or to receive a flyer by mail: call MFIS, 263-4010 or e-mail to Cathy Silvern, mfis@redgym.wisc.edu. Madison Friends of International Students is a forty-year old community volunteer organization that provides programs and services that support the University of Wisconsin’s international students.

WE NEED YOU!

Help make your Peace Corps 40th Anniversary Celebration a success by volunteering to decorate the Memorial Union’s Great Hall, register guests, and much more. We need many volunteers to help on Thursday, March 1st in the afternoon and evening and on Friday, March 2nd in the evening. If you are willing to lend a hand please contact Liz Laufenberg at 238-5358 or ellaufenberg@facstaff.wisc.edu. Tell your friends too - we’ll have a grand time!
Directions for submitting requests for small donations in the upcoming May Giftaway:

1. Giftaway requests must be submitted on a Project Application Form. A copy of the form is attached to the front page of this newsletter. Check the back of the form for further guidance on completing it.

2. Requests must be received by the end of the April meeting for consideration in this year's Giftaway.

3. Only requests from members in good standing of the RPCV's of Wisconsin will be considered. Pay your dues!

4. Multiple requests can be submitted. Each request must be on a separate form.

5. Last year most projects received about $450. Requests for $1,000 or more will be treated as large donations. You need to follow a different procedure for large donation requests.

6. If you mail in your requests, it will save time this year if you mail them directly to me at 393 Lake Kegonsa Rd., Oregon, WI 53575-3044.

7. Questions?? Contact Walt Zeltner (Home: 608-873-5257; Work: 608-262-1321; E-mail: zeltner@engr.wisc.edu).

REVOLVING MEETING DAYS?

I have always admired our rotating system and thought it enjoyable and practical. I really like the idea of the Friday or Saturday meeting being a social get-together. I agree with not liking Union South very much, especially as they tend to bump us off to other buildings sometimes.

So, since I live only a block away from Wilmar and the Willy St.Coop I checked with them to see what arrangements might be possible. I used our next few projected meeting dates and times. Wilmar has no openings at all on weekday evenings. The co-op had openings on the dates we want during the next few months. Sometimes the available time starts right at 7:00, as there is a meeting before then. The coop has room & chairs & tables for our size group. They usually charge $25, but have a form for 501c3's to apply for a reduction. Parking is getting rather tight around this neighborhood, but still seems to be not too difficult. So, Here's my 2 cents!

Haiti Report - Michael McQuestion

Yesterday was Aristide's inauguration. I and two colleagues—another American and a Bolivian—ventured down to the palace in the morning to check out the festivities. We were swept into a rolling crowd of delirious Aristide Lavalas supporters, mostly poor people from the slums. Unlike previous visits, this time the Haitians were not embarrassed to engage me in conversation. I was peppered with diatribes, queried on US foreign policy and repeatedly asked what I thought of the new Haiti.

New indeed.

For the first time the poor feel empowered. Expectations—and the potential for social action—are high and rising as we saw in Sunday's successful vaccination campaign in unspeakably poor Cite Soleil. The problem is that the new government's hold on power is shaky at best. The opposition has formed a shadow government, death threats against Aristide's people have been issued and the international community is all but absent. The donor agency boycott stems from the irregularities observers found in last Fall's elections. Foolishly, Lavalas chose to rebuff calls for new elections, which most here agree Aristide would have won handily.

We also met many of the official inauguration guests who had all but taken over our elegant hotel. Many were expat Haitians, the diaspora as they refer to themselves. They were enthusiastic about the new government and relieved that no violence had occurred.

For the next few days I'll be helping local health authorities to tabulate the vaccination data from Sunday's campaign. Then next week I move to the Interior—le Department du Centre—to help organize more vaccination campaigns and search for suspected polio cases.

That's where I'll really be using my mountain bike and mosquito net.

Later, I hope to find PVC's, who are in some of the other departments and make them offers they can't refuse.

Although my first ten days have flown by, April 26th seems a long way off. If you're bored, get a visa and come on down. We could use you.

All the best.

GUIDANCE for COMPLETING FORM

Amount requested Write on line the dollar amount requested for the project OR place a check in the box at "Check here = Equal share." Choosing the equal share option indicates that applicant will receive an equal proportion of the calendar surplus fund.

Project Description (inside the box): Activities to be funded through the International Calendar shall be consistent with the self-development of people, involving either direct support for that purpose, or facilitating educational and related activities designed to create the conditions in which self-development can occur.

Your description should clearly state what activity will be supported, and how this activity is consistent with the philosophy and goals of the International Calendar and the goals of the Peace Corps. The Calendar Surplus Distribution Policy Statement of the International Calendar, available from the RPCV-WI/Madison Chapter, may also provide helpful guidance for project applicants.

RPCV-WI/MAD. Sponsor The sponsor must be a current (dues paid up) member of the Returned Peace Corps Volunteers of Wisconsin/Madison Chapter.

If project is funded, how will money be conveyed? In this section write the Name and address of person/party receiving funds, and the method (e.g., check, international bank draft, etc.) by which the award is to be conveyed.

Project Categories The geographic and activity type categories will be used for several purposes such as characterizing projects funded from the International Calendar, selecting among projects of equivalent merit in the case when there are more applicants than funds available, etc.

All other items are self-explanatory.
