President's Message

Not much point in a President's Message this month, since half the group met, quite by chance, out at Cherokee marsh this weekend. Deep snow, tall grass, and fresh air made for a bright winter outing. A frosty chat added a cheerful note to the day. Thanks, Shelly, for the mittens! And, for the rest of you, imagine yourself having this much fun at the winter retreat, and let Rose Ann know you plan to be there.

The Cardinal Bar Benefit is on! We're all set to go. Ricardo has reserved the place for us on Saturday, February 18, from 5-8 P.M. The cuisine will be African, which leaves us an entire continent of possibility. I have a couple of African cookbooks, which I am glad to share with people. I'm always happy to talk food. I never thought, while I was in Botswana, that I'd ever opt to eat bagobe, or that I'd crave samp and beans. Plan to spend half a day, or whatever time you find pleasurable, stirring and steaming in your kitchen, creating a dish to remember. Then, head on over to the Cardinal Bar at 418 E. Wilson. Charge yourself and your friends $5.00 each to sample the deliciousness of other people's concoctions. Stuff yourself silly with the satisfaction of knowing that the proceeds of all this fun will benefit others. At this moment, we have not determined to whom we will donate these proceeds. Here is yet another good reason to come to the Potluck meeting at Karen Silbernagel-Moucha's on Feb. 3.

Several RPCVs from Madison emerged from Lake Michigan on Jan. 1st exhilarated, refreshed, icy, and optimistic at the 25th Annual Sheboygan Polar Bear Dip. The unofficial temperature was rumored at -6. We'll know for sure when our t-shirts arrive. Winter ain't so bad when you know how to celebrate it. Our Polar friends helped us out.

"Just Do It..."

Nike has a television commercial for hiking shoes that was shot in Kenya using Samburu tribesmen. The camera closes in on one tribesman who speaks in Native Maa. As he speaks, the Nike slogan "Just Do It" appears on the screen. Lee Cronk, an anthropologist at the University of Cincinnati, says the Kenyan is really saying, "I don't want these. Give me big shoes." Says Nike's Elizabeth Dolan, "We thought nobody in America would know what he said."

RETURNED PEACE CORPS VOLUNTEERS OF WI–MADISON

GENERAL MEETING

JANUARY 5, 1995

Nineteen members attended the first meeting of the New Year. During the introductions, we were to tell one of our New Year's resolutions. There were few promises made, either because of a general lack of a chance that they will ever be completed, or experience has taught us to be flexible to the daily fluctuations in our lives.

Treasurer's Report. Walt submitted Peter's balance sheet which is current as of the end of November. The new total assets since that time, however, are now up from $28,531.92 to approximately $48,000. Peter would like to move $30,000 to a new CD which would bank around July. Calendar printing expenses are due about then. A motion was made to check out an investment with Mark Saundor in something green/ ecologically wise.

Freeze For Food. Dave Atkinson has filed out, applications made and some handed out, and is currently soliciting donations of prizes from businesses. He will still need people directing the race and a van driver to deliver and pick up those people. A chili feast will be held afterwards at Mike and Lillian's. Walt suggested giving a calendar to each runner. Mike M suggested donating a calendar to each business that contributes. Postage will be required for this.

Family Brunch. Shelley stated that it will be held at the same place as last year, and is looking for a speaker. A larger room would be nicer.

Calendar. A request for slides will be sent out soon for the 1996 calendar and this will probably be Henry's last year producing it. Send in those slides, or bring them to the Winter Retreat. We still have some calendars at $5 for members.

Reconnect Project. Sharon stated that the dates in the January newsletter should be January 22 and February 12. Also a dinner is tentatively scheduled for Wednesday, March 19th, at 7:00 p.m. It will be at Phyllis Noble's house.

Winter Retreat. February 24 and 25 at the Lucerne Fireside Bed and Breakfast (formerly Camp Lucerne) near Wautoma. Rosanne needs you to tell her if you will be attending by February 17.

Cardinal Bar Benefit. Susan Mendrysa needs help or else it won't happen.

Guest. Pay to Susan Mendrysa—$15 for our group and $35 for our group and the National Peace Corps Association.

Affiliation with the National Peace Corps Association, it will cost $1.00 per member to be affiliated with National. They are our largest buyer of calendars. Motion by Walt, second by Ken. Passed by unanimous consent.

National Conference. Austin, Texas, August 3 to 6, 1995. Early registration fee of $95 is due by January 31. After that the fee is $125.

The acting secretary for the meeting was Mike Meshak from Stevens Point. He will be leaving February 6th to go back into the Peace Corps in Ecuador. Anyone wanting to write or visit should save this address:

CARDINAL BAR BENEFIT
FEBRUARY 18TH
5:00-8:00pm
(serving starts at 6:00pm)

Hello folks. Well it looks like the Cardinal Bar Benefit (CBB) is happening again this year. I have only been to one CBB but I had such a good time that I was disappointed to hear that it wasn't being organized this year so James Gately and I have agreed to get things going. Lots'a fun, lots'a food...unfortunately not lots'a time. So we really need your support and help this year if we are going to pull this off by the 18th.

How the CBB works... Ricardo (owner of the CB) gives us a place to hold the benefit. We bring the food, pay ourselves $5.00 for the pleasure of eating it, and then donate the money to a good cause...sounds good!

How can you help?

We need people to commit to bringing food. Last year we focused on Nepali/curry foods. This year we are thinking about emphasizing African dishes which, & RPCV's, which are diverse as it is, will cover a broad range of culinary styles. If you would like to bring a dish please call me so that I can have an idea as to how many people are bringing dishes and also so I can coordinate the types of dishes people are bringing in order to avoid the worst case scenario of 12 pots of white rice. We will need main dishes, desserts, staple foods, salads, etc. I have a bunch of recipes for various dishes in case you feel like you want to bring something but aren't sure what to make.

Tell all your friends about the CBB. I will have some flyers to distribute at the next RPCV meeting on February 3rd, but advertising hasn't been that successful in the past. Most of the people attending include us (RPCVs) and our friends and family. I think if we all try to bring 3-5 friends it will be a huge success. It really is a great bargain. Where else can you get such good food (and all you can eat) for only $5.00!!!

Suggestions for where to donate the proceeds. In the past we have generally donated the money to relief-oriented activities. One suggestion has been to donate the money to Oxfam earmarked for projects involving Rwandan Relief. Any other ideas?

OK, that's all. I hope to hear from some of you soon and see the rest of you at the CB.

Susan M. Mendrysa 259-1125 (please leave a message after the beep)

PEACE CORPS AT RISK!

Plan to put Peace Corps in State Department

Peace Corps must remain independent

Senior Mitch McConnell (KY), new chairman of the subcommittee that controls the foreign aid budget, wants to put Peace Corps in the State Department. That would make Peace Corps a direct instrument of U.S. foreign policy rather than an independent agency. In announcing a foreign aid bill, Sen. McConnell said, "I would move the Peace Corps, a very important part of American history, under the State Department so that the director of the Peace Corps reports to the Secretary of State, and the Peace Corps would henceforth be supporting American foreign interests, American foreign policy abroad."

Sen. McConnell's plan would eliminate the separation between the Peace Corps and the day-to-day conduct of foreign policy. This could, among other things, compromise the agency's hard and fast separation from intelligence activities. This in turn could threaten the safety and security of volunteers.

However, we can count on Sen. Paul Coverdell, member of the Foreign Relations Committee, to support Peace Corps' independence and its budget.

Sen. McConnell also wants to cut foreign aid by 20 percent. Since he wants to increase aid to the Middle East and continue substantial aid to the former Soviet Union, that means larger cuts must come from sustainable development programs. Africa would be the biggest loser.

Write and tell Senator McConnell your views on his plan.

Peace Corps fears link to State Dept.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican proposal to take away the Peace Corps' independence could put volunteers in jeopardy and undermine the trust the volunteer agency has built in poor countries over the past 30 years, agency officials and supporters say.

Sen. Mitch McConnell, R-KY, who becomes chairman of the Senate Appropriations foreign operations subcommittee in January, said Monday he wants to put the Peace Corps under State Department control and make the now-autonomous agency answer to U.S. foreign policy goals.

McConnell, whose wife Elaine Chao is a former Peace Corps director, is making the proposal part of a foreign aid overhaul bill. The bill also calls for eliminating the Agency for International Development and specific assistance programs for Africa and putting the U.S. Information Agency under State Department management.

"In an interview Tuesday, McConnell said he agrees the Peace Corps has been generally successful, but said: "I don't think we ought to have Americans operating abroad who don't think they're part of the U.S. foreign policy operation."

The idea provoked an outcry from officials and former volunteers of the corps that President John F. Kennedy created to spread American goodwill and know-how around the world.

"Generally the American public has the view that Peace Corps is a government program that works," said Peace Corps Director Carol Bellamy. "Why would you take an agency that has shown it is reasonably innovative and efficient and merge it with something that is not known to be very efficient."

R. Sargent Shriver, the Peace Corps' first director and Kennedy's brother-in-law, said the idea to put the Peace Corps under the State Department was first proposed in 1961 to then-Secretary of State Dean Rusk. He rejected it.

Shriver said, "with a very succinct and farsighted statement: The Peace Corps makes its greatest contribution to foreign policy by not being a part of it."

Peace Corps must remain independent

Tell Senator McConnell—

• Peace Corps must be independent of the State Department.

• Explain that Peace Corps' independence has been critical to its effectiveness and to volunteer safety and security around the world.

• What Peace Corps has achieved, including your own experiences.

• That Peace Corps needs a budget increase to carry out its mission.

Calendar Steering Committee

Sun, 8 Jan 95

We met on the 2nd Sunday of the month, at Barbara Chatterjee’s, as normal.

Gift-Calendar: As of 8 Jan, we have about 3500-4000 calendars to give away to schools, etc. (Amount depends on late sales.) This is more than we had wanted to give away. But we haven’t reached the ceiling of our market niche; we just didn’t do all the marketing things we did for the 94 Calendar; if we had, we’d have sold about 2000 more. So having 3500 leftover copies is this is no cause for despair, but it is a responsibility: we must get these up on classroom walls etc in smart order. We each undertook to do our part. BUT YOU ALL DO SO, TOO. If you know of a school, library, day-care center, etc where one or many calendars would have a good home, call Lori, Buck, Barbara, etc, to arrange for calendars. Or come to one of the Thursday evening Packing Parties at Gordon’s house. We don’t want to throw them out in to the void, of course: know who’s going to receive them and be confident they’ll actually be used, and how many are needed. We’ll donate the calendars, and pay postage.

And for the next Calendar, we should have a small group of heavies who’ve concentrated on this further in advance. (We did this to a fair extent this year, and have greatly improved in past years’ performance, but this is an area where we need much improvement.)

THE 96 CALENDAR:

Photo Pickle: Henry’s sending out postcards to all likely photos soliciting their photos. And we’ve already gotten a bunch. The first cut will be at or before the Winter Retreat in Feb. We implored Henry to bring them all to the Retreat, as a Retreat Treat. (He grumbled at the logistics and danger, but heard us.) Last year we had 400 slides, fr 80 photos. Just dealing with this mass of images and artists takes a lot of scrupulous record-keeping and correspondence. Henry’s going to devise a way to use other’s help for parts of this job; this aspect has gotten too big to be enjoyed in solitude.

Henry’s gonna get our dandy Printer (Strauss Printing) to scan the winning photos, right away, so we’ll have working copies for preparing the Calendar. Much cheaper than having big prints made.

Text: Buck is pulling together the text. Lots and lots of additional holidays to include this time last year. He hears them squabbling in this dreams, arguing who gets to surface into the Calendar this year. The Prudence and Good Taste Committee will get to critique the Holidays List in late Feb. or so.

Improvements: more on Food (national dishes), perhaps. At the Conference, survey people for their suggestions and toves. For the 97 Cal, we’re talking about adding another 4 pages at end, and thinking of what would belong there (country maps, more info on holidays, etc.). Buck promised to write up a Suggestive Proposal on this, for a future Newsletter, for you all to respond to. Humor in the Calendar: some don’t think it appropriate; a topic to be discussed later (very seriously, of course).

Creators’ Copyright: After batting the subject around for 2 meetings, we concluded this: The creator of photos, art, text, etc in the Calendar retains the original copyright. We get their formal permission to use their material for the Calendar, and for publicity for same. Any other use, by us or by other groups, must be with the permission and at the discretion of the creator.

25 Cal Giveaway: Walt will honcho; Buck promised to help (and particularly to get early numbers on how much money we’ll have for donations.) Buck would like us to have the Giveaway in May, so we can report the results on the back of the 96 Calendar; mid-May is the latest we can add text to the 96 Calendar before printing. (Others think this is too premature—well we don’t always end up giving money to recipients, even though we approve of the donation.)

Telephone: Don’s phone will no longer be cute to use, because he’s off-shouldered Marketing. We plan to get a quite good answering machine, accessible remotely (via other phones). Jim Good and Paul Thompson will be happy for us to house it in their office, which has about 15 phone lines already.

And so to bed. —Buck.

TREASURER’S REPORT: (via Buck from Peter Joyce, who’s in Guatemala. Lucky dog): As of 31 Dec 94 our financial condition was $61,360 to the good. Broken down thus:

1) Group Internal Operations: $1215. This amount will be reduced by the amount of Newsletter postage run up on our postage meter, temporarily billed to the Calendar; income is from donors, talked paid for by PC/MD, etc: expenses are for Newsletter etc.

2) Global Education: $2115. This is money left over/earned from our last Global Ed project (the Teacher’s Manual and Video), and available for use on another project.

3) Calendar Operating Funds and current sales income: $40,470. The final total, in Feb., less set-aside for the next Calendar’s expenses, will be our profits to donate later this year and beyond.

4) Donations Monies from Past Calendars: total is $7580, broken down thus: (a) Short-term (from the June 94 Giveaway donation spree): $136. (b) Medium-Term (set aside in June for the next 12 months’ additional donations): $800. (c) Long-Term/Major Donations/Calendar Bleater Next Egg: $6876.
