A note from the President:

Upon learning that I was to be president of our RPCV group this year, my wife asked me if that meant she would be the first lady. I told her I thought she was making it out to be something bigger than it is.

That is not to say that I don't take the responsibility seriously. I'm pleased and honored that my fellow RPCVs have the confidence to give me the responsibility for the year to come. Thank you.

I can't say that I come to the position with a particularly well thought out agenda. Change is afoot in many areas of the group, though, and I think we should all think about the future of the organization a little more seriously over the year to come. If that seems like a typically vague statement from a group leader, so be it. I'll do better with time and a little more thought.

By the time all of you receive this newsletter, I and a number of other members will have done some more thinking on the issue of calendar donations. In case you haven't been paying too much attention to the impassioned discussion chronicled in the newsletters, we have some propositions on the table to revamp the rules for doling out the calendar proceeds. This sort of issue either gets your blood going or puts you to sleep, so I don't expect that many people will show up for all our meetings on the subject. All the same, I hope that many of you show up for our December meeting to weigh in and vote on the topic.

I hope to start a broader and more active dialogue amongst us all this year. As a step in that direction, you should have all received a 2001 membership directory. It's full of small holes, I know, but we'll work on improving it and getting corrections to people in this monthly newsletter.

Peace,

Brad Hinkfuss

RPCV Christmas Party

The annual RPCVs of Wisconsin Christmas Party will be at Sophia Zermuehlen's house, as always. (317 Bordner St., Madison WI; 233-7886.) Date is Saturday, Dec. 8, '01. Potluck begins at 6 or 6:30 pm. Presents will be exchanged at about 8:00. Bring a WRAPPED present to exchange; and mark it as for a child or for an adult. Presents can be inexpensive but charming, something beautiful you'd like to give away, or a white elephant you can't stand anymore.
Returned Peace Corps Volunteers of Wisconsin/Madison
Minutes of the General Meeting of Monday, November 5, 2001

Elections: We met in the Red Gym. 15 were present. We gratefully elected these officers for the coming year, to serve until the October '02 general meeting:

President: Brad Hinkfuss
Vice President: Lee Row
Treasurer: Karl Stark
Secretary: Buck Trawicky.

(The vote for President, as counted by Ken Coffeen, was "260 to nothing." He suspects ballot-box stuffing was involved—an old Latin American tradition.) Following the election, Brad conducted the meeting, with great composure.

Freeze For Food run: We voted on the MOTION printed in a previous NL, but not yet acted on: That our group authorizes expenses of up to $750 for the FFF. All voted AYE.

Thank you, Brad, for producing the snazzy Membership Directory. He calmly promises to publish updates and corrections as they are received.

We signed up as volunteers to serve at the Alternate Holiday Fair, Saturday, Dec. 1, at the Pres House. And we're urged to volunteer for the International Festival, on Sun., Jan. 13 '02, Civic Center. Our honcho for both is Troy, 245-9964.

Schools in Morocco: Sophia Zermuehlen asks if our group will donate a further $100 for shipping to the school, her last 2 mail bags of garnered books. We are familiar with her project, and thoroughly approve, and voted AYE with no dissent.

Donations process: () We met last month (see preceding NL for a report). () We'll meet again on Nov. 14, at Brad's. () Walt proposed that the general meeting do a straw vote to see whether Rose Ann's proposal (in brief, to give almost everything to Peace Corps Partnerships) had much support. If it does, then it renders all other discussion moot; and we should then vote on it, at the next general meeting. However, discussion got so extended and discursive that we never acted on Walt's suggestion. () We talked about the Third Goal, about responsible donating and responsible follow-up, about whether we should limit the number of projects we support each year, about the effects of disassociating ourselves from the recipients of our donations, and, lengthily, about the pros and cons of the benefits of donating to PC Partnerships. (*) We decided to talk more, in our ad-hoc committee, and then to discuss this further at the next meeting. See the upcoming report from the Nov. 14 meeting.

Donation Coordinator(s): Lee Row, with the help of Sharon Lewandowski, will take over the job Walt Zeltner has been doing for these many years—coordinating the Donations selection process, and keeping track of correspondence with donation recipients.

Pig Roast: Since fewer people seem to come each year, and since the group always seems to end up subsidizing it to an amount greater than $100, it was proposed that the Pig Roast be made a pure pot-luck, with no money charged; as an experiment, for the next year. All voted AYE, or abstained. And Buck was told to get his summary and accounts of the last Pig Roast in to the Treasurer—these are way overdue.

Slide Deadline: The Calendar will contribute 2 pages of text to each NL, from now on (an aspiration). Your Slides are due in by Dec. 31, for consideration for the next (2003) International Calendar.

(meeting minutes cont.) You can mail them to our PO Box -- send good quality duplicates; if you're a winner, we'll borrow the originals. Selection will be at group meetings in January and February. (The Cover theme [to be discounted in photo selection] is S.E.Asian Buddhist monks, and cats and a dog, and scholarship, and sunshine, and domestic architecture.)

The RPCV National Conference, which was to have been in September, but which was cancelled because of the Sept. 11 aftermath, has been rescheduled, for June 20-23, 2002, in Washington, DC. Recollect that the Nat'l RPCV Conference is always a great time and pleasure, so we all should aspire to attend--it's the Gathering of the Tribes; and the '01 gathering was to have been the 40th birthday of Peace Corps: so when we meet in June '02, the party will have been arranged with even more solicitude. Let's all go!

--Buck Trawicky

OCTOBER CALENDAR MEETING MINUTES

10/30/01

- We reclarified that Lee Row will be taking over the responsibility of tracking/monitoring of calendar proceeds as they relate to the donations of our profits.

- We discussed a future goal of e-mailing the finished "calendar page", calendar meeting minutes and any other news pertinent to the calendar, directly to Walt Zeltner. He, in turn, will include it with the rest of the monthly newsletter.

- 326 calendars have been removed from Alan's stock, for shipment to the various worldwide Peace Corps offices.

- We reviewed an inventory of which members currently have how many calendars in their possession, important to maintain accountability.

Marketing issues:

- Lee sent an e-mail to "Whadda Ya Know?", offering calendars as a fabulous prize for the nationally broadcast Saturday morning show, but no response. She will continue to try and make contact with them.

- Troy will pick up extra marketing brochures that are still at Wells Printing.

- Continued discussion about marketing attempts to college campus bookstores around the country, particularly to those who have higher numbers of Peace Corps recruits/volunteers.

- To all group members: If you go to a bookstore, ask for the calendar and help create a demand!!

Next meeting: 11/29/01, 7:00 p.m., at Prudence Barber's abode, 1050 Jenifer St. Ph# 251-0852
LETTER from Don Sauer, 1 Nov 01
Since Nov of 2000 I have been in Albania with Julia. We are not in the direct line of any of the madness now consuming all the Television air time. I have been working in development work, rehabilitating schools and clinics, managing the construction of water supply systems and generally doing whatever needs doing by the International Rescue Committee here in Albania. That is about over. I need to be back in the US again. My father was very ill with a heart problem this past summer and I flew back to Kansas thinking it might be his time to go. As it turned out it wasn't but he is 88 years old and it can't be all that long now. My children are doing well and I want to be able to visit with them from time to time. That, plus the fact that I am just plain tired. I need to be in the States again. I believe the whole world is in a very dangerous time right now. This is one of the reasons I want to be closer to family and friends at this particular time.
Thanks for asking. Hello to all my friends in Madison and I hope that I will be able to visit Madison soon.

Be Well, Don Sauer

MADISON FRIENDS OF INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS NEED HELP

Madison Friends of International Students (MFIS), a volunteer organization dedicated to making Madison’s large international student community feel welcome and at home here, is looking for volunteers for various projects.

-Conversation Partners. There’s a long list of international students, waiting for Americans with whom they can simply talk. Conversations are on any subject of mutual interest and take place in a mutually convenient location. The minimum time commitment is an hour a week, but this often enlarges to a friendship and more time spent together. Once an assignment is made, all arrangements are between the two partners. If interested, call Anne Nahn, 608-831-3390, acnahn@chorus.net

-Office Help. MFIS volunteers staff an office in the Red Gym every weekday morning. Students come in with various questions or sometimes just to talk. Volunteers also answer the phone, deal with email, etc., and some training is provided. Time commitment can be arranged. If interested, contact Carol Huber, 608-255-2195, mnchu2101@home.com.

-Other needs include holiday hospitality (Rose Mary Wise, 271-8259), temporary housing (Sue Thieben, 238-7556), and more. If there’s just a general interest, an effort will be made to find a fit, (Coe Williams 274-1958, wfp@fastplants.org or Hilde Adler, 238-3706, jadler@facstaff.wisc.edu

A Thought To Ponder...

"Those who visit foreign nations, but associate only with their own countrymen, change their climate, but not their customs.---They see new meridians, but the same men; and with heads as empty as their pockets, return home with traveled bodies but untraveled minds." Colton
SUPPORT SHRIVER CONGRESSIONAL GOLD MEDAL NOW

NPCA has been informed by Representative Sam Farr (D-CA), an RPCV (Colombia), that House Resolution 2949 to honor Sargent Shriver, first Director of the Peace Corps, with a Congressional Gold Medal, was introduced in the House on September 25, cosponsored by all six RPCV members of Congress (Farr, Shays, Walsh, Hall, Honda, Petri). The Resolution now has 70 co-sponsors and needs bipartisan support with 290 co-sponsors to clear the House. Please contact your House members and urge them to sign on as co-sponsors and support the Resolution with their colleagues as well.

For information on HR 2949 and co-sponsors, see http://www.thomas.loc.gov and for information on phone numbers of your representatives, see http://www.house.gov, at "House Directory.

Senegalese Education Fund Update and Fund Allocation Request

Hello to all the RPCVs reading this. Our Girls' Club Program is off to a fantastic start in the new year, in Senegal and I thought I would update you on all the happenings there as well as publishing my request for funds.

The first good news is that we have hired a permanent Director of our Girls' Club Program. She is a Senegalese woman named Fatou Cisse. She has a very wide background in teaching literacy programs as well as health seminars for adults. Our current Peace Corps coordinator, Robin Whittaker, has been working with her on running the Club meetings and what the subjects for the coming year will be.

As well as the monthly meetings for the girls, we have also offered her continuing education opportunities by funding classes for her in internet and computer operation. She is very excited about starting these classes and it will allow us all much better communication. We have also offered her a monthly stipend of 15,000 cfa or 23.75 US$. In the future we hope to furnish a higher monthly stipend.

The funding request is for a 4 month period and covers: Fatou Cisse's stipend: 60,000 cfa = 95,00$; Fatou's Internet courses: 51,000 cfa = 80,00$ ; Four Girls' Club Meetings: 83,000 cfa = 130.00$ ; A Total for Four Months of: 195,000 cfa = 305.00$

As we have had some very generous donations in the last month, I believe that we should have enough in our account to handle this disbursement. For those of you who are interested, the break down of the topics for the Girls' Club meetings this year are as follows:

This is the first four months... basically it's a rough outline with the rest of the year looking like this: Business; Exchange visit to Kaolack (the regional center of the community); Another Gardening meeting; Family Planning; Antibacterial Soap Making; AIDS and Sexually Transmitted Diseases

If anyone is interested in more information on the Girls' Club Program or in helping out with the SEF Steering Committee please let me know. Thanks! Judy Kader

Call for Proposals
It’s time to prepare for the 2nd round of the Giftaway, held at the January General Meeting. If you have small projects worthy of funding, please fill in the small project form. These must appear in the newsletter that comes out in December if they are to be considered and the deadline for that is December 10th.

Forms are available online at our web site http://www.geocities.com/wirpcv or from Lee Row at 608.232.9065. If you have questions, call Lee or send them to her at our online address calendarmail@yahoo.com.

Speaking of the Giftaway
Discussion of our method of dispersing calendar proceeds has been ongoing. Details appear elsewhere in the newsletter. If you’re interested in how and why we fund projects, it’s important to attend meetings to vote your preferences.

World Wise Schools Calendars
Last year we provided about 7,000 calendars for the World Wise Schools program. Calendars are sent to participating teachers for use in their classrooms.

Recently World Wise Schools administrators told us they didn’t want to presume we’d continue to make calendars available. It seems our lack of commitment has caused some uncertainty in the program.

Should we make calendars available to the World Wise Schools program for as long as we make the calendar? Should we decide on an annual basis whether or not to send calendars to the program? How do you feel about this way of distributing the calendar to fulfill the third goal? Tell Rochelle, our Calendar Honcha (243.0298) or tell us all at the next General Meeting.

Calendar Committee Meeting,
Tuesday, October 30th
We met, as usual, at Prudence Barber’s, 1050 Jenifer St. All are welcome to join the Calendar Committee. There are jobs for all!

The Next Calendar Committee Meeting
Will be Thursday, November 29th at 7 at Prudence’s. For more information, call Rochelle (243.0298) or Prudence (251.0852).

Meeting Highlights
In keeping with the season, Prudence made pumpkin bread to go with the tea and other drinks she provides for us. Yum!

The meeting focused on marketing. Ron Chance, our neophyte marketer has been having lots of success placing the calendar around Madison. He’s following leads developed by Prudence over the years as well as finding new outlets. Welcome!

Important Notice!
The official Calendar Committee meeting minutes appear elsewhere in the newsletter this month. However, something was suggested at the meeting that everyone can do to help: Check on calendars in stores. If you don’t have time, send spouses, friends, children. Tell us how the calendars look on display, and if the store needs more. If they don’t have them, ask them why not. Go armed with Marketing Contacts:

East & Downtown
Prudence Barber 251.0852
Ron Chance 240.9309

West
Lee Row 232.9065

Stores that sell calendars:
Barnes & Noble Global Express
Borders East & West Canterbury
Orange Tree Imports Paul’s Bookstore
Room of One’s Own University Bookstores
Rainbow Bookstores Willy St. Coop
Victor Allen’s-Camelot
Calendar Sales
This year we started with 35,000 calendars. As of November 15th, we’ve sold 23,893 calendars. Orders are still coming in steadily and Returned Volunteer groups are ordering 50 and 100 more because they’ve sold their original stock. Good for all of us!

Report from Arcatao
In the summer of 2000 we voted to give the Community of Arcatao, in Chalatanango, El Salvador, $5,000 to help develop a clinical analysis lab in the town.

Intestinal parasites and urinary tract infections are among the most important health problems in the region, but even simple lab tests were unavailable. Lab equipment and training and a salary for a local technician were seen as a way to give the community access to these analysis services. It will also make treatment more specific and thus more effective.

The project got underway in February of this year and is expected to last three years. Visits from Madison will help to monitor the project as it proceeds.

Mark Your Calendar Now
The deadline for slide submissions for the 2003 International Calendar is January 25, 2002. Now is the time to look through those slides and get them to the Photo Coordinator, Jo Thomson. Contact her at 255.1339.

Viewing Dates
We will have the first showing of slides at the February meeting, Thursday, the 7th. At that viewing we will narrow the choices down to 50.

The following Sunday, February 10th, we will choose the final 12 photos, one for each month, and the cover photo for the 2004 calendar. That viewing will be at Rick & Lee Row’s, 5217 Pepin Place, near Hilldale, and should include food. Watch this page for future details.

Have YOU Bought YOUR Calendars?
RPCVs of WI-Madison members can buy 2002 calendars for $5. What a deal! But it’s almost time to give them as Christmas presents or to use them.

Where & How
We always have calendars for sale at the General Meeting – the next one is Tuesday, December 4th, 7 P.M. in the Red Gym. We’ll also have calendars at the Christmas Party, Saturday, December 8th, at Sophia Zermuehlen’s, 317 Bordner Drive (233.7886) at 6 P.M. (Don’t forget to bring a wrapped present, white elephant or not, for the Gift Exchange!)

Anytime, Anyhow
Otherwise, you can get calendars from the following people:

Rochelle Goedken 541 Oak St. 243.0298
Rose Ann Scott 2714 Oakridge 241.0845
Prudence Barber 1050 Jenifer 251.0852
Sophie Zermuehlen 317 Bordner 233.7886
Lee Row 5217 Pepin Place 232.9065

Fun & Fair Trade Shopping
The fifth Fair Trade Holiday Festival will happen Saturday, December 1st, at the Pres House on Library Mall. We’ll have a table with calendars and Peace Corps materials.

This is a great place to find special presents you can feel good about giving, educate yourself about being a good consumer, and have a really nice time. In addition to crafts and UNICEF products, there will also be locally produced cheese and meat for sale. A bake sale will satisfy your sweet tooth. Twenty-three groups will participate this year. Stop by the RPCVs of WI-Madison table. You could even buy your calendars then!

See you at the December General Meeting, December 4th in the Red Gym.
ANNOUNCEMENTS:

Hey Teachers!
There is $2096 in our Treasury, that has been there for YEARS and YEARS. How about coming up with some ideas on using the money?

Volunteers Needed

The Willy Street Fair was cancelled, but don't despair! There are two more community events coming up that we will be participating in.
We will have a table at the Alternative Holiday Fair featuring various groups and organizations on Saturday Dec. 1 on Campus at the Pres House from 10am to 4pm and at the International Festival on Sunday, Jan. 13 at the Madison Civic Center from 11am to 5pm. I'm looking for volunteers to come for an hour or two to schmooze with the public, give out Peace Corps info, and sell calendars. Call Troy at 245-9964 to sign up.

DO YOU THINK WE CAN GET THE CALENDAR INTO MORE BOOKSTORES?

This year the Calendar Committee decided to concentrate on marketing, in an effort to sell the calendar in more places, (besides the RPCV and PC type groups, who do a great job). Over the years, we've been trying this same, but it's hard. We're a small producer and don't have "ins" to many places. What seems to work best to get calendars out to new places has been personal approaches to stores, school departments and non-profit organizations. So we're asking you to think about this:
1. Do you have access to a store, school or organization that is interested in our type of activity and might like our calendar?
2. Do you have a relative or friend who does?
3. Do you have connections to a school you attended?

If so, ask Pru to send info, marketing packets, etc. 608-251-0852 prudence@itis.com
1050 Jenifer St. Madison WI 53703

ANOTHER CALENDAR MARKETING APPROACH YOU CAN DO: Ask us for the names of a few "college bookstores" in any city you choose, and we'll send you a few names you can get in touch with. If it seems likely, you can get the name of the person to send or take info to. In a few days, you can follow up. This works fairly often, and it's fun to see the results!

Examples: Judy Figi got stores in Beloit and Janesville to send in orders! Several other people have gotten stores in different parts of the country. I talked to somebody in a bookstore in Berkeley last winter and got a person's name. This season I sent a sample and a note saying that Berkeley is the #1 PC city in the US and that nobody there is selling the calendar, so they sent an order.

Even though it may be getting late for stores this year, if we introduce the calendar to them now, they may be quite receptive when we talk to them again in July or August. So, please, all keep up the good work, and let's do more!
