A Message from the President

As a new year unfolds it is a perfect opportunity for us to evaluate where we are as an organization and where we want to be in the years to come. Many of us take part in monthly events such as the socials, business meetings, ethnic dinners, recruitment activities, and now movie outings. It is a blessing to us that our International Calendar project is so well-received by the public. This project has provided a very tangible means of carrying on the Third Goal, while at the same time allowing us an opportunity to support a plethora of development projects sponsored by Peace Corps Partnerships and other local community organizations. Of course thrown in throughout the year are the multiple avenues in which we market our calendar. We also host the Annual Freeze for Food in cooperation with the Colombia Food Network every January. And now is the time when we are gearing up for National Peace Corps Week events, and soon following the Family Brunch.

Many of these events are now standing traditions of our organization. No one would suggest we stop producing the International Calendar. It may not have been the original reason for formalizing our organization, but it is at the core of who we are today. And yet, we do need to think about the future of this project. In trying to gather information to more concretely record how we function, I have come to realize not only how many people are involved in producing the calendar, but also that the details of its production are known only to a few. Why? Well, they are the ones who have been doing the work for the past 20 years.

We post a calendar on the Website that frequently reads TBA (to be announced) or a similar notation next to an event listed. Some of these events have not taken place recently because no one has stepped forward to organize them. Is this because we have out-grown these activities and there is no interest in them? Or perhaps, past organizers of these events took on other responsibilities and no one ever filled these roles? Could it be that some of you are interested in doing something, but have no idea how to start and are afraid of being overwhelmed by the task?

It is my experience that people who are involved in a specific aspect of an organization’s life are more likely to find their membership meaningful. If you want to know people in this organization and have them know you, then you have to show up...repeatedly. When I first moved to Madison in the summer of 2004, I came upon the RPCVs of WI-Madison at the Willie Street Fair and learned when the general meetings took place. Then I started showing up at these meeting month after month. And even though I did not know anyone when I first arrived, it did not take long before someone asked me to take on the responsibility of managing the listserv. It was also through these regular encounters with involved members that I came to find a sense of comfort and belonging within this group.
You may feel like this organization has no place for new involvement because there are so many people who are so well-versed in what they do for us. But I promise you, there is always a need for assistance. Currently we are seeking new organizers for the Family Brunch held each spring/summer. The Calendar Committee, which meets the Fourth Tuesday of every month at 7:00 pm at 2714 Oakridge Ave., is always seeking help for tasks large and small! Perhaps you would like to volunteer somewhere with others, invite RPCVs! There are opportunities to share about your PC experience in educational and recruitment settings. Plus, your presence is desired at any and all of the monthly activities listed above. Get on the listserv (email RPCV_Speakeasy@yahoo.com) to stay informed.

Whether you just returned from service or you have been back for more than a decade(s), I thank you for what you bring in making the RPCVs of WI-Madison a stronger and more fulfilling community for us all. I deeply appreciate this organization and encourage anyone who desires to be involved to start creating your place among us today. We welcome you!

Laura

Like all CRS programs around the world, CRS/The Gambia work on a variety of programs in which they endeavor to assist the impoverished to be able to better their lives and the lives of their children. With this in mind, today I would like to conduct you on a short tour of what CRS is doing in Gambia.

I'll start with the program I am helping on, the sesame project. This project, aimed at women farmers, started about 10 years ago and originally was a way to assist pregnant women and children to obtain better nutrition. Because the diet here is limited, especially for pregnant women and small children, CRS was looking for a low cost supplement which could be added to the diet to increase its nutritional value. Sesame oil has high concentrations of minerals and vitamins and can be easily grown here. CRS decided to assist the women's groups in the country with sesame production, to be used as cooking oil in the home. As the project progressed, the value of sesame as a cash crop became apparent; this opened up new horizons, because as a cash crop sesame would help the farmers diversify their crop base and bring in extra money which could then utilized for school fees, medical expenses and other items they could not otherwise afford. The main disadvantage for using sesame as a cash crop was the low price paid by the exporter; the low volumes produced did not encourage the exporters to pay market price. CRS stepped in to help organize the women farmers into groups to increase production through better planting and harvesting techniques. To address the low prices, CRS helped to organize the women farmers into a nation wide organization call NAWFA (National Women Farmers Association) to negotiate the price exporters pay to the farmers. This helped to increase the price fivefold and was so successful that many of the men now also farm sesame.

Another project, “Safety Net”, like the sesame project, is aimed at improving people’s nutrition, however this project assists entire families to meet their food needs. During the two or three months before harvest, food in the rural areas is in short supply and many of the poorer families are reduced to eating only one or two meals per day. Many reasons contribute to the lack of food, including poor farming soil, the lack of funds for fertilizers and other inputs and the spotty nature of the rains in some years. This project mostly deals with food distribution to those most in need during what is called here the “hungry season”. Along with food distribution, CRS works with local communities to assist them to formulate ways to assist those in need, utilizing the communities own resources. Internal solutions to problems are always longer-lasting and better suited to the need.

A large and growing project is the anti-malaria bed net campaign. This project aims to supply a mosquito bed net to all pregnant women and families with young children in most populist division of the country. In the coming year, the program is set to expand greatly, to cover the entire country. You would not think that mosquito netting would make a big difference in the lives of people, but in sub-Saharan Africa the number one cause of death of the children under five is malaria.

CRS also has a program to assist those living with HIV/AIDS to get the proper nutritional care they need so they are able to use the drugs that combat the disease.

How to Request a Donation from Calendar Proceeds

As sales of our International Calendar wind down in mid- to late-February, the committee that oversees calendar production and marketing determines how much of the money made from sales of the calendar will be available for donations to worthy projects. That committee sets aside enough funds to cover estimated printing and marketing costs for the upcoming calendar and makes the rest of the proceeds available for donations. $70,000 is a typical amount that is set aside for donations, although the amount varies from year to year.

Our present approach for making donations is: 1) 10% of the amount available for donations is set aside for possible use by the National Peace Corps Association for specific projects that we approve; 2) $10,000 is set aside to cover the up-front costs of running the Freeze for Food benefit race (about $700), to fund International Education projects (enough money to bring this fund up to $1,200), and to fund worthy projects suggested by our members; and 3) the remaining funds are used to support Peace Corps Partnership (PCP) projects, with each member having the opportunity to award $1,000 total to a project (or split among projects) specified by that member until all the remaining funds are dispersed. PCP donations (third category above) are coordinated by Rose Ann Scott who tries to update the projects available for funding in our newsletters and at meetings. Detailed information about these donations is usually available in the newsletter.

This discussion focuses on the process for submitting a request for a donation to a specific project under the second category above. We are interested in funding educational and self-help development projects, both domestic (although some of our members will not vote for domestic projects) and out of country, that are consistent with our Peace Corps outlook. Please keep the following considerations in mind if you want to request a donation.

- The request must be sponsored by a dues-paying member of our group.
- Fill out the donation request form available on our Web site (www.rpcvmadison.org). Use only that form! If you have questions about filling out the form, ask me. Be sure to indicate specifically how to get funds to the project (i.e., check, money order, hand carried, etc.). For checks, tell us how to make out the check and the address to which to send the check. We will not send checks overseas. If you need us to send a money order or bank draft, include money to pay for these in your request.
- Donation requests will be considered at our April meeting. If funds remain after this meeting, additional requests for the remaining funds will be considered at our October meeting. Any funds that are not dispersed at these meetings will be carried over to the next April meeting.
- Donation requests will only be considered if they have been published in our newsletter before the meeting so that people have a chance to consider the request before voting on it. [Note: The newsletter is being published quarterly now.] You should send copies of the request to me (either hard copy or e-mail so I can have it for our records; include any additional supporting information you think would be helpful in reaching a decision) and to the newsletter editor (e-mail only and only the first page of the form, please, since this is what will be published).
- Someone familiar with the project must attend the meeting at which we consider the funding request for the project in order to answer any questions that may arise. Failure to attend the meeting will result in having your request tabled until you can attend a meeting to provide further information if needed.
- How much should you request? This is up to you, but realize that we have limited funds available (about $11,000 this year because of funds that will be carried over) and we will receive several requests (about 10 this past year). If you request a donation in April, I would limit the request to $2,000 at most and expect that smaller requests will be more likely to be funded in full. We also look favorably on projects that include matching funds from other sources, including in-kind resources (e.g., labor, supplies, travel, etc.) provided by the project participants.

- Deadline: Requests for funding for consideration at the April 2006 meeting MUST be submitted to the newsletter editor by March 15, 2006. I am no longer in a position to insert requests received after that date into the newsletter.

Also keep in mind:

- We do not fund travel overseas, even for projects that are otherwise approved.
- We generally do not fund relief projects through calendar donations unless there is a large development component to the project. If you feel strongly about submitting money to a relief project, consider organizing an educational fund-raising event for the entire community. Some of us who have been around for a while can provide some ideas.
- We generally do not fund scholarships in the US or support living expenses for foreigners working in the US.
- A couple of years ago, several people indicated a preference for providing start-up funding to help projects get established, rather than funding projects on an on-going basis. If you request funds, it would be best to consider the funding to be for two years at most.

The next meeting of the RPCVs of Wisconsin – Madison will be on Wednesday, March 14 at 7:00 PM in the Red Gym on Langdon Street. Check the bulletin board across from the front door for the room. We are hoping that Jane Furchgott of the Richland Center - Santa Teresa Sister City Project will be present to update us on the progress of various projects that we have funded through their program.

Project Title: East Madison Even Start Family Literacy

Project Description: (About 100 words)

Established family literacy program (year 7) serves parents with low levels of literacy and their children (0-7 years) with intensive, comprehensive, year round instruction. Serve 45 families, (majority new arrival Hmong immigrants and Hispanic) committed to improving literacy and parenting skills to support their children’s educational success. Concurrent preschool is staffed for optimal language development and serves 50 children, allowing parents to attend ESL, and basic education classes. In-home and small group native language parenting education help parents understand key developmental stages of children and support their growth and learning through tailored activities. Staff certified in Parents as Teachers and classroom Creative Curriculum. Classes five mornings per week at the Northport Community Learning Center.

Federal funding cut over half ($95,000) July 2006.

Requesting funds to secure native language support staff in toddler room for Hmong children with emerging language.

$1800 would support this person @five hours for 36 weeks.;

This amount also equals annual support for one full time participant.

Project Title  Biosand Water Filters: Clean Water Solutions for Rural Uganda

Project Description:

Village Health Project, Association (VHP) is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization whose mission is to provide local people tools to improve the health of rural populations in developing countries. Currently, VHP is working to provide access to clean water for rural families in Uganda by building biosand water filters. $2000 can be used to build 40 filters, the approximate number needed to supply one filter per household in an average-sized village in southwestern Uganda. In addition, VHP is collaborating with the University of Wisconsin-Madison to include a service-learning component in the University's Uganda health and nutrition study abroad program. While abroad, UW students will work with Ugandan families and community members to construct and test the filters. This irreplaceable cross-cultural experience significantly deepens the learning experience for both the Ugandans and the UW students.

Project Title  Water/Sanitation Projects-El Terrero, Nicaragua

Project Description:

Santa Teresa Project requests the money to begin basic water/sanitation projects in El Terrero and will match the RPCV donation. The community consists of 40 families who currently have wells, but request funding for rope pumps and latrines. The community members will do the construction, using construction materials purchased with the funding. The Richland Center-Santa Teresa City Project have been working with El Terrero for a couple of years.

Minutes from the General Business Meeting
Wednesday, November 8, 2006
7:00 pm, Conference Room, Red Gym

Present: Tom, Walt, Sarah, Kim, Greg, Mary Ann, Heather, John, Rick, and Laura

1. Meeting started with Intros – sharing who we are and our countries/dates of service.

3. Recruitment: Greg is always looking for suggestions for ways to boost recruitment on campus and in the community. The following events are in need of speakers: World Language Day on April 19th, (and already past events November 16th International Education Day at Lodi High School and November 27th Campus Recruitment event focusing on French and/or Russian speakers). If you are interested in speaking at a recruitment event or have any ideas for avenues for recruitment, please contact Greg Pepping, Campus Peace Corps Recruiter, at 262-1121 or peacecorps@cals.wisc.edu.

4. African Youth Outreach: Alex Kendzierski, M.D., Founder and Director of AYO presented a report on how they used the project sponsorship funds we allocated to them this past year. AYO operates summer camps in rural regions of South Africa during the summer and also provide basic first aid/sanitation training. AYO created a campus student organization and was highlighted as part of the Campus Worlds AIDS Day events and the Ten Percent Society Dance. For more information about AYO, check out their website at www.africanyouthoutreach.org.

5. Conflict of Interest Policy: Our accountants recommend that we consider creating a Conflict of Interest Policy. It is not required, but does ensure that no one is receiving personal financial benefit from any position or involvement in our organization. We received four samples of how the policy could be written. It was suggested that a simple draft of a Conflict of Interest Policy for the RPCVs of WI-Madison be written and brought to the next general meeting for review before putting it in the newsletter for a vote.

6. Administrative Request for Information: Tom Kenney, Treasurer, and Rose Ann Scott, Business Manager, can write checks for our organization. Tom maintains the checkbook. The organization’s by-laws were last updated in the early 1990’s. Members thought that Gordon Malaise might have a copy, however, he does not. If you are in possession of any version of the by-laws, please contact Laura Buchs at lkbuchs@hotmail.com or 265-2467.

7. Family Brunch Organizer(s) Needed: Heather Hempel and Sarah Anderson have organized the Family Brunch held in late spring/early summer for the past two years. The Minnesota Recruitment Office sends out invitations to the local membership and individuals who have been invited to serve in the U.S. Peace Corps. Heather and Sarah are very happy to walk someone through the planning process. If you are interested in organizing or co-organizing this event, please contact Heather Hempel at 843-3973 (preferred) or hlhempel@yahoo.com.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

- RPCV Podcasts
  Peace Corps has expanded their marketing to include Podcasts (don’t need an IPod, just media player on your computer). The segments are volunteers telling short stories about their experience. These are greatly great for personal enjoyment or in the classroom setting (they come with lesson plans).

- PeaceCorps Week Event: International Potluck and PCV Send-Off Party:
  When: Monday, February 26, 2007
  Where: Newel J. Smith Hall, UW Campus, First Floor Main Lounge, 35 N. Park St. Parking at 21 N. Park St., Lot 29. Each vehicle can purchase a $5.00 parking pass for the evening as you enter the parking ramp.
  Time: 6:00-8:00 p.m. Potluck meal/socializing from 6:00-7:00 p.m., and a program from 7:00-8:30 p.m., to include RPCV stories and a question/answer panel.
  This is a send-off for soon to be departing volunteers and their families. Anyone connected with Peace Corps, or wanting to learn more about Peace Corps is welcome to attend. RPCV’s are encouraged to bring a favorite dish from their PC Country, wear native attire, bring artifacts, photos, clothing, crafts, etc. to display for the evening.

- Grad School Opportunities for RPCV’s:
  Are you an RPCV who’s interested in Grad School? Looking for a way to finance it?! Take advantage of the Peace Corps’ Fellows/USA programs!
  Fellows works with more than 30 universities that offer financial assistance, scholarships or reduced tuition to RPCV’s who pursue grad degrees in a variety of subject areas. Through internships, RPCV’s help meet the needs of underserved U.S. communities while obtaining their degree. This a lifetime benefit, so you are always eligible. For more information, visit the Peace Corps website and click on “Grad School”.

- Looking for Job: Hi, I just returned from Kenya, ’04-’06. I relocated to Madison a few weeks ago and I’m looking to network with RPCV’s and hopefully find a job. I have a computer background, any help would be appreciated. Jarrett Mirkes, jarrettjarrettm@yahoo.com.

- Tutoring Opportunity: Elementary School
  Megan Scanlon, Dominica ’04-’06, and now an Americorps volunteer at Lowell Elementary needs volunteer tutors on Monday, 2-3:45 p.m. and Tuesday/Thursday, 3:30-5:00 p.m., starting ASAP. No experience necessary. The only prerequisites are a minimum of 1.5 hours/week and a police check, high school to seniors are welcome to volunteer. Ph#204-6648, 219-409 or lowellreads@gmail.com

Cinema & Conversation Events Kick-Off in December!
While the closing of Hilldale Theater to make room for a new Sundance Theater comes with mixed emotions, it serves as an example of Madison's magnetism for independent theater. Foreign and independent films were an easy extension of RPCV social outlets, however, it was the release of the big budget Hollywood movie Blood Diamonds last month that inspired me to finally kick off this Cinema & Conversation series.

Our first outing was to Westgate Art Cinema on December 13th to view The Empire in Africa, a documentary about the past 20 years in Sierra Leone. We followed this up with a visit to Star Cinema on December 20th to view Blood Diamonds, a Hollywood blockbuster starring Leonardo DiCaprio, also depicting some of the recent history in Sierra Leone. After each of these films, we gathered at a nearby eatery to discuss our impressions and talk through some of the questions stirred by their presentations. We also benefited from the more personal assessment shared by Rose Ann who served in Sierra Leone.

These events were so successful that it is my hope to continue to offer at least one group Cinema & Conversations event each month. It was particularly interesting to be able to watch two movies with a shared theme, so I will do my best to identify similar opportunities in the months to come. If there is a particular film you would suggest that is currently showing or coming to Madison, please contact me at the following: Laura Buchs 265-2487 or lbuchs@hotmail.com. Thanks!

All RPCVs of Wisconsin – Madison members receive a monthly newsletter, World Roots News, on payment of annual dues shown below. To avoid record-keeping hassles, we prefer members pay through September of the year joining, then pay for a full year membership in September. Members renewing or joining between September and December should pay $15; members renewing or joining between January and April should pay $10; members renewing or joining between May and August should pay $5. Reduced rates are available for those in extreme financial circumstances. You can also join the National Peace Corps Association (NPCA) through us by paying an additional $35. We encourage you to join the NPCA, which provides us a way to affect national issues.

Please note that these overseas rates do not include NPCA membership

- Individual - $15 for one year
- Overseas Individual - $24
- Joint - $20 (Two people receiving one newsletter)
- Overseas Joint - $29
- I am also enclosing $35 for NPCA membership
- ($45 for joint membership – two people with the same address)
- I do not want to join but would like to receive World Roots and am enclosing $7 ($15 for overseas) to cover costs.
- I’m Moving! Please change my mailing address.
