President's Message

Yikes! The message from the Pres issues forth, once again, from the bowels of a squeaky typewriter. Note that I cleared the gunk out from the center of the 'o's. Technophiles brace yourselves. A quiet rebellion lays in waiting. I'll be parting with the computer effiency, productivity, and classroom roar soon, and be forced to fill the hollow void with pencils, pens, typewriters, and paintbrushes during the course of aestivation. Don't even try to "rescue" me from this misery.

Walt Zeltner and the Gift-Away Committees have done an excellent job of streamlining the give-away procedure for the calendar money. We will be putting forth a nice variety of environmental, educational, small business, health, and social service projects for funding approval at the June meeting. Thank you to all of you who submitted funding requests. It is an honor and a pleasure to work with people whose good-will and concern manifests such a variety of ways to care and means to help.

Nice times await us this summer. I hope to see many of you at the camp out at White Mound County Park. New faces are welcome and invited to this, and all other activities. Sophie has volunteered to host the July 9th potluck meeting, another occasion for light business and pleasant comaradarie. Thanks to Henry, the canoe weekend plans are underway. We need to start the ball rolling on the pig roast too. Bring your ideas and orgazational skills to the June meeting.

Congratulations to the graduates among us. May our learning ever continue.

Project Title: Vietnam Peace Park

PROJECT DESCRIPTION: (Fit text into box—about 100 words. Details on back)

The Vietnam Peace Park is a joint project between veterans of Vietnam and the US to form a park based on Wisconsin’s Highground Veteran’s Memorial Park located near Nielsville. The park will be a place for veteran's to go in time of trouble to leave their pain behind. As we reach the 25th anniversary of the end of the Vietnam War our country is looking for meaning of that war. This park is a contribution towards healing and reconciliation among individuals, veterans and our two societies.

TOUGHEST JOB YOU'LL EVER LOVE??

Well, working on the calendar probably won't make it to that catagory for me, but maybe it will for you. I like it, but don't love it. I put in 2 to 8 hours a month, more towards two in the off season, towards 8 in the busy season. As in Peace Corps, I've learned things along the way. I'm learning alot about bookkeeping, business and publishing. Its interesting to see this all come together and to be a part of it. But I am proud of the calendar. I wasn't one of the founding members, but I know that my contribution helps. The calendar is a great concept; its the best thing we can do as a group, besides the pig roast, of course.

The calendar committee is always looking for new volunteers. Just like I replaced people who have moved on to other things, we need more volunteers to help fill in the gaps. Call Barbara Chatterjee at 271-2405, or any other member on the committee. Or what the hell, just show up at one of our famous packing parties.

Peter Joyce
23 were present. We introduced ourselves, and related memorable bug stories. Walt requested assurance that at the last meeting we did indeed agree to split up the 95Calender proceeds as outlined in the minutes of that meeting. ($8000 for the giftaway, $2000 for donations and projects for the rest of the year, and $4000 for long-term or large-donation uses.)

Calendar: The printrun for the 95 Cal will be 16,500 down a bit from that for the 94 Cal. (We need a replacement for Henry as Photo Editor, and we have no one devoted to Marketing--though Distribution is well-handled. Until we get folk for these slots we should not expect our sales to grow much.) The 95 Cal will be printed sometime in mid-June, we expect.

Donation: We re-approved, AYE, giving $125 for Barbara's Diversity Conference. She urges us all to attend. (RPCVs are organizing a sharing of the world's breads.)

Giftaway: Walt summarized our traditions, for the neungnya. The Giftaway Committee will meet once, to review all donation proposals, and make recommendations. [This has already happened, and it took only an hour--one of our group's pleasantest jobs.]

Reconnect News: there is none.

The garden project we funded has leveraged our donation to garner yet more money, and has hired a woman as a gardening instructor; youth groups are being set up (10 are hoped for); all this in her first week and a half on the job.

And: Helene passed along an article by Chick Dambach on "Don't Cut Peace Corps' Budget." Write your congressfolk.

Potato Brunch: We had a loss of $35.50 or so. We voted AYE to pay what's due.

Habitat for Humanity: We reconvened our commitment. [It rained that day, though.]

Summer Campout: Gordon has signed us up at a new place, a campground with cows! (Don's recommendation.) 8-10 June. Come!

Cardinal Bar Benefit: (many months ago): half the take was to go to a hunger project in Africa, and Susan is looking for a good destination. But she wasn't at the meeting to report.

The Freezer for Food Run: Dave, via Lori, asked that we approve $600 for set-up money. We all said AYE. And Buck explained why we pay expenses for the freezer, instead of taking the costs out of the take. (We always have, we want to give the whole pot to Oxfam, and it's a donation we make from our Calendar profits--from the $2000 we're setting aside for the rest of the year, as listed at top of page.)

We voted AYE to fund the Chicago Schools Project sponsored by Mike McQuestion (see last ML). A new tradition was begun: we voted by secret ballot. (Conrad's suggestion.) Vote was 17 aye, 4 nay.

And that was that. One of the most efficient meetings ever.

--Buck.

Funding Request: Makumbi's Children's Home
Sponsor: Susan Mendlys (Lesotho, 90-93)

Makumbi's Children's Home (MCH) within the Catholic Mission is 42K outside of Harare, Zimbabwe. The Home is structured and managed on the principle of providing a sense of family and a sense of cultural identity for the children. Over the years the Home has undergone a transition from hut to dormitory to family-style homes. Currently, MCH houses children of both sexes, ages ranging from infant to 18 years.

The Social Welfare Department of Zimbabwe has provided assistance through a monthly grant for the upkeep of each child. However, MCH is beginning to face increasing admission pressure due to increasing numbers of AIDS orphans, and malnourished and sick children needing shelter and care, and is beginning to feel the strain on its financial resources. Due to spiralling food and living costs, it is becoming increasingly difficult not to compromise on children's needs, particularly nutritional needs for growth and optimum health. The Home is therefore now having to seek external assistance to supplement its own resources and to continue to provide adequate care for the children.

While MCH has an immediate need for external assistance, it is also pursuing plans for a vegetable garden, fruit orchard, and poultry farm. These projects would help the orphanage to obtain nutritional self-sufficiency, and also provide some agricultural training to children living at the Home.

This request was brought to me by a co-workers who is actively involved with UW-Amnesty International and is a friend of a Zimbabwean woman (a UW student) whose aunt is involved in the management of MCH. UW-Amnesty International has been organizing activities to address some of the other needs of MCH such as health supplies and books by African authors.

I think MCH has real needs and they trying to look ahead at how they can become self-sufficient in order to meet their needs in the future. However, in the short term, I propose the RPCV group assist MCH by donating 50% of the money raised by the Cardinal Bar Benefit for hunger relief in Africa.

FREE FISHING IN WISCONSIN

The Calendar Research Department informs the Adventure Committee that in Wisconsin the 1st Saturday in June is, by statute, Free Fishing Day. No adult needs a license to fish on that day. We should take advantage of this ephemeral opportunity, and go fishing on Saturday, June 3rd. Buck's chapheen friends say the waters offshore from the point of Governor's Island is a good spot. Let's go fishing! Call Buck if you want to come. 241-2392 (any time except between 1 a.m. and 5:30 a.m.)
Reasons for Opposing the Establishment of a Reserve

I have three reasons for opposing the establishment of a Reserve Fund from the proceeds of our International Calendar.

1. Putting money from the calendar into a Reserve Fund is an inappropriate use for that money. People buy our calendar with the expectation that the proceeds will be used to fund appropriate development projects. If you were selling the calendar to someone and they asked you how the proceeds would be used, would you be comfortable telling them that a part of the money would go into a Reserve Fund in which there was NO USE specified for that money? I thank Jeff Cochrane for this argument which he raised two years ago when I tried to get us to donate $2,000 of calendar proceeds to support the annual RPCV conference. At that time, a majority of our group did not think that supporting the conference was an appropriate use of calendar proceeds. Is this use any better? If we need a Reserve Fund, let’s fund it from our operating budget rather than calendar proceeds.

2. Establishing a Reserve Fund requires us to spend even more time and energy finding appropriate places to put our money for safekeeping. Once we have the desired amount of money in the Reserve Fund, we’ll want to find high-yielding, safe investments that maximize the interest from the Fund so we can donate that interest. I already know a couple of people who are disturbed by our putting money into a commercial money market fund. Our money management problems will only be worse when we have to deal with a Reserve Fund. I would much rather distribute the money NOW to projects that need it and can provide worthwhile outcomes, which is one of the reasons that we exist as a group, than sit on the money and have to deal with the associated problems of managing that money, which has nothing to do with our purposes as a group.

3. A Reserve Fund is not necessary. As I understand it, Buck’s major concern is that, if we were to lose all the calendars that we print soon after printing (by fire, flood, tornado, theft, etc.), we would not be able to print another set of calendars because we would not have enough money. However, this year we had enough proceeds from the calendar to set aside $37,000 to cover all foreseeable expenses of the calendar, of which only $23,244.00 is for the actual printing. In the past we have paid part of the printing cost up front and relied on initial calendar sales to bring in enough money to pay the rest of the printing bill. That has always worked, and I think we can fall back on that approach again if we have to. In the future, if the Calendar Operating Committee is really concerned about having enough money to repeat a print run of the calendars, they can budget additional funds to cover that possibility (although I’d vote against it).

Call me at 873-5257 or 262-1321 (Work) to discuss this issue further with me.
