Hello all,

I hope you are having an enjoyable fall! In our organization, fall brings officer elections. We are fortunate this year to have a slate of excellent candidates. Rick Row is running for president, Dan Rosenthal for vice president, and Sarah Galanter for secretary. All three are currently active members who have contributed much to our organization. Please come to our next meeting, October 20, 7pm, UW Memorial Union (room in Today at the Union) to vote on our officers for a one-year term.

At our last meeting, September 15th, we discussed moving our annual donation to NPCA from a guaranteed 10% donation to a case-by-case project basis. Every April during our normal donation giveaway, we would entertain proposals from NPCA in addition to the regular proposals we receive for international projects. At the April meeting, we will have the opportunity as a group to review the NPCA proposal as well as the other project proposals. The hope is to allow for greater accountability for the funds donated to NPCA and at the same time balancing this NPCA donation with the donations to many worthy project proposals submitted to our group. At our next general meeting in October, we will be discussing the details of this process.

This is my last RPCVs of WI-Madison president’s message. It has been a pleasure to be the president of this group for the last two years. I am proud of all the work you do and look forward to being a part of this group for years to come. I am glad I could be of service.

Go in peace,
Steve

THANK YOU to the 41 people who helped prepack the 2005 International Calendar on Friday September 17th at Alan Weiner’s Warehouse. They are: Rose Ann Scott, Don Olson, Sue Kummer, Todd Kummer, Eileen Harrington, Anne Bentley, Karl Stark, Ian Stark, Ron Chance, Beth Chance, Archna Bhasin, Ana Zambie, Cheryl Rumancionis, Dick Rundell, Karen Rundell, Erik Rundell, Elinor L.C. Gbedey, Kevin Nies, Hannah Nies, Mark O. Miller, Pat Halpin, Rochelle Goedken, Alan Weiner, Sandra Belozercovsky, Marc Brand, Jo Thomson, Meredith Green, Rollie Coney, Joanne Coney, Gloria-Luz Nelson, Omar, Phyllis Noble, Kenneth Coffeen, Sharon Isensee, Sophie Zermuehlen, Pat Halpin, Helene Pesche, Troy Rutter, Tom Brodd, Mike Reed, and Margot Kennard. This was the largest gathering of the RPCVs in Madison so far this year.

Thanks to everyone’s help we packed 1104 envelopes with 3844 calendars.

To date, the calendar proceeds have enabled our group to donate over half a million dollars to projects around the world. It is the active RPCV-Madison volunteers that have made this happen. Thanks to all who have lent a helping hand.

Thanks to Alan Weiner who hosts the best packing party in town. Thanks to Rose Ann Scott, our business manager, who put in a lot of time and effort to figure out how many calendars to pack, in what envelopes and how much postage to put on the envelopes.

Calendar Meeting September 28, 2004

Rochelle, Margot, Alan, Pat, Kristy, Todd, Jo, Rose Ann, Tom, and Ken were present.

Our most exciting news, which also shortened the meeting agenda quite a bit, is that we have a very experienced calendar sales/marketing person! Anne McKenna, spouse of Brad Hinkfuss and mother of Noah, has decided to take on these duties while on maternity leave and at home with Noah.

According to Rose Ann, Anne has 20 years experience working with five different publishing companies. She most recently worked for the Trails Media Group, putting together and marketing their calendars. She has a lot of contacts, will take care of the larger orders, and has some creative ideas for local marketing and promotion. She will receive a commission of $0.50 per calendar.

Some questions we had for Anne: How appropriate is our calendar’s size and design? Is it appealing to consumers? Is our current system of packaging the most cost-effective? We also had questions about the appropriateness of the 2006 cover photo. The photo is very good, but dark, and some question if it will “grab attention” on the shelves. Anne wants to start on marketing the 2006 calendar by the beginning of January, so the cover photo, at least, needs to be ready. The subcommittee that works on calendar aesthetics (Jo, Sue, Sondra, etc.) will begin on this ASAP.

We will also need to work on speeding up the process of selecting photos, getting the calendar ready for press and production to have it ready by mid-May. It will be extremely important for committee members to meet their deadlines for work they promise to do. Sue is going to be very busy next year, due to some other contracts and will not be able to work with late arrivals as she has in the past.

We will be moving up the photo selection process. Dates are January 24th for the first showing and January 30th for the final selection.

Next meeting: October 26th, Prudence’s house, 1050 Jenifer St., 7 p.m. All are welcome.

Highlights from general meeting, August 18th, 7pm, UW Memorial Union

- The calendar packing party will be held on September 17th at 6pm at Alan Weiner’s Warehouse on Highway 14. Steve will send out directions and details by email.
- Over the years, several awards have been given to our group from various entities. It would be nice to have these awards displayed in a central location for members and non-members to see. We’ve talked with folks at the university and determined that we can hang plaques or awards in the room used for Peace Corps recruiting in the Red Gym. If you are in possession of any awards given to the RPCVs of WI-Madison, please get them to Rose Ann Scott, 2714 Oakridge, Madison, WI 53704, roseannscott@yahoo.com.
- Our new campus, PC recruiter is Damian Wampler, a graduate student in the Russian Studies program. Please welcome Damian and contact him with any PC recruiting related issues. His email is peacecorps@cals.wisc.edu.
- Damian will register our group as a student group for this school year.
- Nominee for president is Rick Row, VP is Dan Rosenthal, and secretary is Sarah Galanter. We will vote on these nominees at the October 20th general meeting.
- There have been some problems with harassment with a current member of our group. If you have any concerns please contact Steve Elmore, sbelmore@usa.net or Rick Row, rowhome@sbcglobal.net.

Highlights from general meeting, September 15th, 7pm, UW Memorial Union

- There was a discussion about ongoing issues regarding the NPCA. NPCA president, Kevin Quigley has indicated an interest in doing an interview with our group and having it published in our newsletter. If you have questions that you would like asked during this interview, please contact Lee Row, worldrootsnews@yahoo.com.
- Issues currently on group members’ minds are:
  - Do board members have to raise money for NPCA?
  - How does the new NPCA membership database work?
  - Can members of our group, who are not members of NPCA be on this membership database?

What are the benefits of being an NPCA member?

Benefits we know about are:
- PC lobbying, including teaching members how to lobby the federal government on PC issues.
- National conventions
- Publications, including World View, 3/1/1961, Group Leaders Digest, and the group leaders listserv.

The NPCA board of directors provides direction to NPCA. We as a group need to be more involved in the board when we have concerns about NPCA. To begin with, we should have a report from NPCA board meetings in our newsletter.

We discussed moving our annual donation to NPCA from a guaranteed 10% donation to a case-by-case project basis. Every April during our normal donation giveaway, we would entertain proposals from NPCA in addition to the regular proposals we receive for international projects. At the April meeting, we will have the opportunity as a group to review the NPCA proposal as well as the other project proposals. The hope is to allow for greater accountability for the funds donated to NPCA and at the same time balancing this NPCA donation with the donations to many worthy project proposals submitted to our group. At our next general meeting in October, we will be discussing the details of this process, such as specifics we will ask for in the project submittal. The tentative maximum amount that will be available to NPCA in this process will be $7000. This will be a separate donation from the amount we give to NPCA per member of our group.

- The Willy St. Fair and parade will be September 19th. We will be marching in the parade and having a table to sell calendars. Contact Troy Rutter if you are interested in marching or helping at the table.
- There have been some problems with harassment with a current member of our group. If you have any concerns please contact Steve Elmore, sbelmore@usa.net, Rick Row, rowhome@sbcglobal.net, or Rose Ann Scott, roseannscott@yahoo.com.
- New officers to be voted on at the October meeting: Rick Row, President; Dan Rosenthal, VP; and Sarah Galanter, Secretary.
- The calendar packing party will be Sept. 17th at 6pm, Alan Weiner’s Warehouse, Hwy 14.

Willy Street Thanks
Thank you to all our volunteers at the 27th annual Willy Street Festival on September 19. We had an information table at our usual shady spot on the 900 block of Willy Street and we even marched in the parade behind the vintage bubble-blowing Cadillac. (We marched right behind the Mad-City Roller Derby Girls with Tom Brod's Peace Corps flag leading the way.)

Thanks to Margot Kennard, Cheryl Ramancinis, Marc Brand, Sharon Isensee, Ana Zambie, Lee Row, Rick Row, Pat Halpin, Jo Thomson, Eileen Harrington, and Tom Brod for staffing our table.

Bigger thanks to the brave souls in marched in our inaugural Willy Street Parade. Decked out in our finest host country garb were Tom Brod, Rose Ann Scott (with her Sierra Leone flag), Ken Coffeen, Cheryl Ramancinis, Ana Zambie, Peggy Garties and her 2 children, Judy Miner, and Troy Rutter.

Thanks to Kristie Torres for inspiration even though she was not there! Next year, we hope to have more marchers. Special thanks to Margot for watching over the table while we marched. Tom for taking charge at the end and cleaning up while I was AWOL, and Prudence Barber for her help. Start practicing your marching steps now and see you next year. Our next event will be at the 8th Annual Fair Trade Alternative Holiday Fair at the Pres House on Saturday December 4, 2004. Call Troy at 245-9964 to volunteer.

Peace Match Speakers' Bureau
The Peace Match Online Speakers' Bureau, developed to link returned Peace Corps Volunteers (RPCVs) with teachers throughout the United States, has been operational for six months with a good response: To date, hundreds of RPCVs and teachers have registered for classroom presentations. Implemented through a cooperative agreement between the Peace Corps and the National Peace Corps Association (NPCA), Peace Match makes it easier for RPCVs to find speaking opportunities and for teachers to identify RPCVs who wish to visit their classrooms. Both educators and RPCVs can search the database by zip code for a match in their areas.

"Peace Match helps returned Volunteers bring their cross-cultural experiences to American students," said Gladys Maloy, NPCA Peace Match program manager. "By connecting RPCVs with foreign-language teachers, for example, Peace Match provides a wonderful opportunity for RPCVs to do presentations in their host-country tongues."

"Having taught language arts and social studies for many years, I really appreciate the value of Peace Match in enhancing the education of American children, who often don't have the opportunity to travel outside their own communities, let alone to another country," said Eileen Mattingly, acting director, Peace Corps Domestic Programs.

With the 2004/2005 school year upon us, now would be a good time to think about sharing your Peace Corps experiences with students and teachers in your community. To register, visit www.PeaceMatch.org. Teachers will then be able to search the Peace Match database and e-mail you to request a presentation. For more information, contact peacematch@rpcv.org.

Project Help Wanted

Greetings,

My name is Daniel Yudchitz, I am a senior Industrial Design student at the University of Wisconsin-Stout. I am doing a design project that is dealing with the physical and social problems of developing nations, particularly in urban areas with a high concentration of poverty. At this point I am in the research phase and I am finding it necessary to make contacts with individuals who have knowledge in this area. Due to privacy restrictions, the Peace Corps office in Minneapolis could not provide me with personal contacts, however they did guide me toward your organization as one that would possibly like to assist me in establishing a greater understanding of poverty in the urban environment. The nature of my project is headed in the direction of dealing with alternative housing, and infrastructure. I would like to contact a person or people who have first hand experience with urban poverty in the developing world. My ultimate goal is to develop a design solution that will enrich the lives of those people who currently live in conditions where that are lacking in physical or social infrastructure. I would appreciate any information, personal contacts or personal experiences you could share with me. I would be glad to call anyone at a time convenient to them. Thank you very much for your time, I look forward to hearing from you.

PC Week Project

Dear RPCVs,

Do you have any tidbits from your Peace Corps experience that are sure to make people laugh? Or cry?
The Peace Corps Week staff knows you tell wonderful stories and this year we'd like to share them with a wider audience.
Please take the time to help us out by writing a short piece about your experience in Peace Corps. In 50 words or less tell us about your loving host family, how long it took you to learn another language, your best (or worst) day, the work you did or anything else that speaks to the people reading it.
Example: Did you know you can bake chocolate chip cookies over an open fire? They come out a little smoky, but taste just perfect when you need them.
Please e-mail submissions to pcweek@peacecorps.gov. Include your name and country and years of service by October 14, 2004. We plan to include some of them in Peace Corps Week 2005 promotional materials.
Thank you for your help and we hope to hear from you soon!

Touring Chilean Artists present tribute to legacy of Chilean poet, Pablo Neruda

Complimentary Tickets to Educators & Schools

On Thursday, October 14, 2004 at 7:00 pm Madison Area Technical College is hosting a performance by an all-star cast of musicians from Chile who will perform a musical tribute to the work of Chilean poet, Pablo Neruda.

Pablo Neruda, who received the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1971, would have been 100 years old this year, were he alive today. His work is among the most widely read and cited of Spanish writers, and himself was an important figure in Chilean life and politics despite periods of repression and exile for his outspoken criticism of injustice in the country.

The MATC tribute is part of a "Tour of the Americas" (including the USA, Canada, Mexico and Central America) by Chilean artists Lichi Fuentes, Comparsa Huara, and Bandolero Duran. These three musical groups will perform the poetry of Neruda set to music as well original compositions honoring his legacy. The majority of the performance will be in Spanish and will be an excellent opportunity for students of Spanish to experience Latin American culture and language in context.

Tickets for the general public are available for $5 each by contacting the MATC Mitby Theater Box Office at (608) 243-4000. However, a group discount of $3 per ticket is available for groups purchasing ten or more tickets at once. Interested educators are eligible to receive up to 10 complimentary tickets/school to encourage students to attend this performance. Please contact Geoff Bradshaw, gbradshaw@matcmadison.edu if you wish to take advantage of this ticket offer (available on a first come, first served basis while supplies last).

This program is hosted by the MATC Educational Programming Board Multicultural Programs Series. It is an effort to serve as a "leader in learning" for the campus and community with regard to global literature and multicultural traditions. We hope you will join us for this event and other MATC programs in the future. For additional events see info online at: www.matcmadison.edu/student life.

Grenada Relief

Dear RPCV-Madison,

On September 7, 2004 hurricane Ivan decimated the island nation of Grenada. A category 5 hurricane with winds over 135 MPH, Ivan left the smallest independent country in the western hemisphere with almost no electricity, few remaining houses, and scarce clean water.

The United States Peace Corps, the Grenada National Emergency Relief Organization (NERO), and other relief organizations are working on putting the island back together. Their focus is to bring adequate housing, food, and water back to the island, and to counsel families affected by the storm.

Grenada was the world’s second largest exporter of nutmeg before hurricane Ivan, and had a tourism industry fueled by cruise ship passengers. Cruise ships will not be able to land for at least a year, and nutmeg trees will take approximately 15 years to reach full maturity.

The cleanup cost is estimated to be over $4 billion. Assistance from the United States and Caricom has only reached $6 million. The majority of that money will go to buy housing supplies and food for the people of Grenada, but cannot begin to address long-term needs.

"Grenadians living in this situation are no better off than cave people. Though they have hammers and saws, they lack the necessary nails and plywood to make these tools relevant," says PCV Justin Leous.

The United States Peace Corps is a registered 501(c)(3) Please send donations and supplies to: Mr. Sylvan McIntyre, c/o NERO St. George, Grenada. Every donation is another step toward a healthy Grenada. Please contact me if you have any questions. Thank you in advance for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Jon Lee

NPCA Job Bank

Greetings,

One thing that I think should not be overlooked in this discussion of NPCA services is the NPCA’s new online career center/job bank site at www.ectopic.com/n pca/.

If you haven’t checked it out, I urge you to do so and to then spread the word through your RPCV networks.

Currently there are over 70 jobs posted by employers looking specifically for RPCVs. If we don’t give those employers some responses we won’t be able to keep bringing them back to post those jobs. But there is more.

Visitors can view and post to an events calendar, follow links to articles and other job-related Web sites, and post and respond to discussion topics.

It is an interactive virtual community that can support RPCVs in every stage of their job search and career development.

I think that this is an excellent example of the NPCA providing a service that matters, whether you are a newly COS’d volunteer looking for that first job back, an RPCV who has been in the workforce for years, or an RPCV who values the skills developed by the Peace Corps experience and wants to support others in their career development.

Thank You Notes...

Thank you all very much for your confidence in and support for our health project in Guatemala. We received the grant check last week and truly appreciate your assistance. It has been nice to connect with your great group. Thanks for all you do!

Sincerely, Connie V.

I am writing to express my gratitude for your generous contribution to my Peace Corps Partnership Project to build a granary in Bafoulabé, Mali. This project was completed in conjunction with a very motivated women's association who serve Bafoulabé with a large garden, an egg production project and now this grain bank. We began construction in April and finished in June. A report is forthcoming as well from the Peace Corps. Thank you again for your generosity!

Sincerely, Katherine Overcamp

Thank you for your thoughtful donation to the school library project of Rio Arriba, Bolivia. The support is greatly appreciated as the collected funds will be designated to buying various kinds of books including anthologies on plays, music, and poetry, encyclopedias, atlases, dictionaries, and other materials to promote research and self-learning in both the school and the community.

Be assured that these resources will be used as they not only satisfy a great need of a rural school that rarely receives the government funding it deserves, but also because the teachers and students who will be using them are motivated and they have consistently played a role in the development of this project. Please be in touch if you have any questions; I can provide updated information on the library while still onsite and contact information for the next volunteer after August of this year.

Thanks again, Kristin McKennon (K_mckennon@hotmail.com)

Thank you so much for your contribution to the Peace Corps Partnership Program Potable Water Project for Alto de Jesus, Alianza, Valle, Honduras. We are happy to report that, because of you, the project is now underway!

Periodically over the next few months, we will be sending you updates via either mail or e-mail, like the attached, of our progress. We hope that from these notifications, you will be able to see, and feel, the difference that your generosity is making. If you prefer to receive these updates in a different format, please don't hesitate to inform us at any time.

Thank you, again, for your donation to this project. Your kindness has already brought hundreds of smiles throughout the community...and we have just begun!

Sincerely, Chrissie and Timothy Hopkins

Be sure to have a look at the materials that Rose Ann brings to meetings. We have many reports and notes from both independent and Peace Corps Partnership projects.
