January Donation Proposals
need to be submitted in time for the Newsletter for January, so members can be informed before the Jan. meeting: proposals MUST be received by early December. ATTN: PROJECT GRANTS, RPCVs of WI/Madison Chapter, P.O. Box 1012, Madison WI 53701, or send direct to Walt Zeltner, by e-mail at: zeltner@engr.wisc.edu

Newsletter deadline for December is the 10th.
We do Donation decisions only 3 times a year (May, Sept., Jan.; except for time-critical matters), so please galvanize yourself.

Mensaje del Presidente

After years of helping inveigle others to take this job, it's now on my shoulders. I always said "C'mon, do it. It'll be fun. It's NOT a big job, and we'll all help you." So now I have to eat my words, and very munchy they'll be, I'm sure. This job'll definitely be a lot more fun than was being Master of my Masonic lodge, which included attending funerals.

There will be a National RPCV Conference in Minneapolis next summer.
Let's all go! It's close, it'll be affordable, and RPCV Conferences are wonderful fun. Our group should help the Minneapolis folk as much as we can. We'll discuss this at our next meeting.

We should also take care of some postponed pieces of paper. It's time for another Membership List. It would be good to have a Book of Lore detailing the secrets of each officer's job. We need to have some Welcome Literature for new members. And we'll soon need a Schedule of Events for the coming year, and a timeline of dates by when preparation should be done.

We didn't go canoeing this summer: let's do so again, and I suggest the Kickapoo: it's a lovely river, and if we take our time we can stretch our explorations and beaver-trapping out over 3 years.

And let's finally have Praise of Ourselves Night, perhaps next March. And a party of some sort each month. And a rose to the Secretary on Secretary's Day!

Ever since our group began, many of my best friends have been among you. Peace Corps people make wonderful company, especially while working on worthwhile tasks. It'll be a pleasure to be President for a year. And though this year's slate of officers is all men, we'll try to keep our Election Night promise and wear skirts now and then: probably in the form of lungis, sarongs, or kilts.

--Buck

Halloween Party!! Oct. 31, Saturday

From 7:00 pm, after the kids have gone Trick or Treating (mostly treating, we hope); and bring them, too; also your grandparents. At Deb Stapleton's house, our traditional venue. 2406 Sommers Ave., 244-8609. Wear costume if inclined. (All officers will be in skirts; see the Minutes). <= that's scary!

Bring munchables and quaffables.
While impressed with the “sphere of influence” of our Executive Register folk, I recently met a woman whose charitable leanings and business savvy extended her reach across the globe!

Mount Horeb resident Linda Eiler was “just a tag-along” when she accompanied a friend to a Peace Corps meeting. “I didn’t even know they had a program for business people,” Eiler said. “But that night everything fell into place for me.” Everything meant leaving a job as a ReMax Realtor in 1991 for a two-year stint with the Peace Corps Business Program in Sri Lanka.

During an intensive three-month training session, business volunteers learn the host land’s language, culture and customs. “Singalese is a Sanscrit-based language,” Eiler noted. “My volunteer group was taken to the market. Our training was total immersion from the start with no interpreter.”

She was housed with a Moslem family in a small village where she was called Sadu Akka. “Don’t people know my name? I am Linda,” Eiler told her host family. “They do,” she was informed. “But you are family to all in the village now. You are Sadu Akka — White Elder Sister.”

Eiler noted that “belonging” is a strength in Sri Lanka. She worked in Colombo, the capital city, and was amazed how easily the women adopted the practice of forming cluster savings groups. They pooled their monies to purchase things to generate more money, such as a sewing machine or goats.

Sri Lanka women also found it advantageous to join a “female” chamber of commerce to accomplish what they could not in a coed situation. “There are over 100 chambers of commerce in Colombo alone,” Eiler explained. “I researched laws to find ways for women to get business licenses and insurance. Women are making great strides in the country by working together.”

In return for her service, the Peace Corps provided all training, transportation, and a monthly stipend of about $100. “The Peace Corps paid my host family for my room and board [about $20/ month] and I ate what they ate. They had tea fields and we primarily ate rice and curry.”

At the end of the service commitment, volunteers are given savings bonds or they can “cash out.” “You’d be surprised how far a couple thousand dollars goes after learning what you do in the Peace Corps,” Eiler said. “You can travel throughout the world about a year on that, using their system.”

Eiler returned from Sri Lanka with a rather unusual bonus of her own — a husband! She married an American businessman involved with trade in Colombo before returning to ReMax and the “normal business life” more common to us all.

P.S.: Formerly Ceylon, Sri Lanka is an island off the southern tip of India and one of over 90 countries in the world where Peace Corps business volunteers serve. They provide direct assistance to entrepreneurs, traders, small manufacturers and other business people and also help strengthen institutions providing business services, such as municipal governments, development banks or chambers of commerce. The winter breezes ar blowing and the leaves are falling of the trees. The mice are scurrying in to find shelter before the snow fall (unforunatly finding it on my house) and the weatherization is close to completion (and the traps are out). Scary how fast the year goes by.

Working on the web page materials and hope to have something tangible to offer soon.

I do appreciate letters/articles from all members either near or far, let us know what you are up to.

When submitting items for our newsletter send, as much as possible, the articles, notices, announcements, etc. via E-mail. I do have Word and Word Perfect.

I also ask that information is sent ASAP to me by October 10. I do realize this is earlier than in the past, but I hope this will enable timely delivery to our members.

Articles etc. should be sent to

Or mail a disk to:

W 8407 Davis Rd.

Browntown, WI 53522

Thank you very much for your cooperation on putting “Our” newsletter together!

And, THANK YOU ALL who contributed articles for this months World Roots!!
17 were present, some straggling in late and grumpy. We met in the Engineering Building, across from Union South. Ambiguity in Union South's posting of the location led a number of people to trek over to the Memorial Union (the wrong place), and then go home in disgust. Let's not let this confusion happen again.

We introduced ourselves, and gave a "Sports" story from our country. (Enduring gratitude to Ken Coffeen, dead-wood president, for introducing this custom during his reign.)

Calendar Report: our Packing Party, at Alan Weiner's warehouse, went well; we've now got LOTS of stamped envelopes stuffed with calendars of various quantities (1-6) and a boilerplate invoice, all ready for labelling and dispatch. We probably won't have to do this again until January, if then. (Unless demand goes nuts.) This preparatory work will greatly reduce our bill for labor of Alan's paid workers. (By the way, Alan has a very nifty warehouse.) (And, nb: about 45% of our print-run are already sent out; some are planned gift-calendar donations. But still, Wow!) (And see "A Visitor/RPCV Conference," below.)

Treasurer's Report: see elsewhere. It's annual audit time, so Troy has summary numbers on hand.

Deciding on Donation Proposals: Remember last meeting? We laid over the donation proposals, because they couldn't be decided easily, and we ran out of time. So, there were 9 donation proposals before us, for a proposed total of $9900 (see the last few months' Newsletters for details):

- Badger History Group $3000
- Nicaragua Loan Fund $2000
- Green Gardens $600
- Swarnivar Dev./India $1000
- India Boys' Home $300
- Arcatao Restaurant $1000
- Ivory Coast Women $500
- Forest Co. Legal Fund $500
- Milw. Safe Nights $1000

Ivory Coast Women, Green Gardens, Swarnivar Development, and the India Boys' Home, proposals were unanimously approved. The rest needed discussion.

The Badger History Group (submitted by Rochelle): Tabled. We talked back and forth about this, a lot. And didn't get anywhere near consensus. Everyone thought that $3000 was too much. But some thought the proposal had real merit, and that $1500 was reasonable, particularly if it were for the video camera, which would be returned to us in a few years, and then given again, to a similar project in Chiapas or elsewhere. But others thought that this proposal just isn't a proper use of our money, and opposed any donation. If 1 or 2 people were against this proposal, it wouldn't be too alarming—though it would make us take heed—, but a lot of people feeling iffy is a bad sign. However, we didn't reject it outright (particularly since our attendance was lower than normal, and perhaps not representative): we tabled it until January. We urge Rochelle to re-submit her proposal in January, when we'll again vote on Donations Proposals. (Re. January Donations, see the "Calendar of Events" page.)

Arcatao Restaurant: After discussion, unanimously approved, for $1000.

Nicaragua Loan Fund: After discussion, unanimously approved, for $2000.

Forest County Legal Fund: Unanimously approved, in a revised form, for $500. Soberly discussed. Many of us hate the proposed Crandon Mine, and the mining companies' sneaky ways, and sympathize with the town's plight. However, this proposal is for what is essentially a political matter. And we generally steer clear of funding political stuff. Terry took our point, and revised his proposal, to this form: The donation would go to the Wisconsin Resources Protection Council, for operating expenses (NOT for any legal expenses). We voted AYE, IF they are indeed a tax-exempt organization. (Terry is all but certain they are.)

Milwaukee Safe Nights: Rejected. (Various persons' reasons were: It's part of the War On Drugs (which is a War On Civil Liberties); Isn't this the government's job?; It's a lot of money; It's in Milwaukee [for shame].)

Freeze For Food (Peter Joyce): Who to choose as our co-sponsor? (We decided that the co-sponsor must have local representation, and must promise to help us run the Freeze. The co-sponsor would get the proceeds, instead of Oxfam, the previous recipient.) There were 2 candidates who had proposed themselves, the Wisconsin Coordinating Committee on Nicaragua (WCCN), and the Colombia Support Network (CSN). After discussion, we chose CSN, because we wanted to keep the food/hunger theme of the Freeze, and CSN would use the money to help feed internal refugees in Colombia. But we warmly approve of both groups, and were impressed by the greater number of thinking bodies WCCN promised for work on the Freeze. However, WCCN would have used the money for the Nica Loan Fund, not for food/hunger work, and we'd just voted $2000 to this fund, so we went with CSN. We'll re-evaluate this matter next year.

Announcements:
1. Linda Eller has been attending the monthly meetings of the Madison Chamber of Commerce, along with our campus
PC recruiter Peter Quella. It has been great fun, she’s met nice people, and they’ve implanted the idea of Peace Corps as an option in a lot of business folks’ heads.

3 things in particular for us to think of:
*We can perhaps get free TV time for our group. She made contact with a feller at Channel 27 who’s warm to the idea; and the other stations may well be as open, if we but ask.
*She and Peter have occasionally gotten requests for speakers. We really should revive our Speakers Bureau, instead of handling these requests on an ad-hoc basis.
*Linda will be leaving. (Ohhh... Sighs of sadness.) So she needs a replacement. Jody Masher, and Todd, agreed to take over. (Loud applause.)

3: Webmaster: Theresa, our NL Editor, announces that she’s found someone willing to revive our Webpage! (Cheers, by the computer-literate. Blank faces by the others.)

A Visitor: Patrick Ganey was there. He works with PC/Minneapolis (recruitment coordinator), and is also active in the RPCVs of MN. Wearing his PC hat, his first reason for coming was to show the flag, greet us all, and get to know our group. (PC/Minn. is trying to do this with all the Upper-Midwest groups.)

Wearing his RPCV/Minn. hat, he commended us for planning to be actively involved in the 1999 RPCV Conference in Minneapolis, Aug. 12-15. And he urges us to actually DO this, by sending representatives to the October meeting of regional groups, talking about the Conference, in MN. (Dave Marcouiller and perhaps Buck will probably go.)

The MN folk are charmed and love us for featuring the Conference on the 1999 Calendar, with a contact phone number, and in red! (Though we’re more modest: we do this for every Conference, though the red color is part of this year’s overall Calendar tuneup: thank Sue Kummer and Barbara Chatterjee and Jim Good for that.)

The Theme of the Conference is “Gathering for Peace.”

ALL want to make a special effort to attract recently-retired RPCVs to attend!!!!

Patrick also pointed out that PC/Minneapolis regularly buys a lot of our calendars, so they can give 1 to the family of each serving PCV from their region. He suggests that we try to get PC/DC to adopt this as an overall policy: this would be an order for about 6000 calendars a year! (And if each PCV gets on during training, that’s another large bunch.) He can give us advice if we want to propose this to PC/DC. (Alias, Patrick had to run back to his motel to put his daughter to bed, so we couldn’t talk with him after the meeting.)

Elections (what Peter calls "New Management"):
The Nominations Committee, chaired by Kevin Jenkins, had rounded up 1 candidate for each position, and these were approved by acclamation. The New Management is: Buck Trawicky, President. Rick Lackey, Vice President. Troy Rutter, Treasurer. Terry Stark and Peter Joyce, cooperating Secretaries.

It was pointed out that, uniquely, this year we have no women officers. (So, the men are pledged to wear skirts to at least one meeting. But they refused to draw straws to determine who got the sex-change operation. [All have bad past-life memories involving obsidian knives].)

THE NEXT MEETING: Friday, Nov. 6, 1998. This is a POT LUCK MEETING. At Kathleen Quinan’s, 185B Jenifer, ph. 249-6437. Eating commences at 6:00; the meeting will be at 7:30 (not our normal 7:00), after which we’ll resume our guff. Come early and stay late. (Site was organized subsequent to the General Meeting.)

Our Intro Story for the meeting will be “Beloved Landscapes” of our other country: be ready!

Retiring Secretary’s Comment: It is a wonderful job, being Secretary, and I have enjoyed it a lot, for years and years: it’s a job that energizes you, instead of drawing on your reserves. It’s only right that someone else get all the fun, and I wish Terry and Peter great fun in doing this work. While I’ve been Sec., unusual and special treats were the 2 times when meetings were cancelled because of blizzards etc, and I got to write the Minutes of the meeting that should have happened: a license to compose fiction, and then have it collected by the Historical Society. (And I’m sure Doug LaFollette, our Sec. of State, eagerly reads our Newsletter in bed before snoozing, the same day it comes to his door.)

In sum, it’s been a hoot, and I’ve loved the work.

--Buck Trawicky.

Calendar Steering Committee Meeting
Minutes for Monday,
October 5, 1998

Members Present: Rochelle Goedken (RG), Rose Ann Scott (RAS), Prudence Barber (PB), Troy Rutter (TR), Walt Zeltner (WZ), Buck Trawicky (BT).

Marketing/Sales: It was noted that the World View magazine has been arriving very late (summer issue received in October). RG will contact David Arnold at the NPCA to discuss our concerns regarding the 2-page ad we placed in the fall issue. RG will inquire as to whether the fall issue will be delayed which would effect our calendar sales and possibly delay the receipt of slides for consideration in the next calendar. Other ads were also discussed including: 1) An ad that was placed in the newsletter of the WI Federation of Teachers. 2) PB will try to place an ad in the PC group newsletter called 3161. 3) RAS will place an ad with the United Nations magazine again this year. 4) If anyone knows the contact person for the National Education Association, please call RAS at 241-0845. We would like to consider placing an ad with them.

We briefly discussed that calendar finances reviewed by at least 2 people, has been working out very well. TR and RAS have worked out a good system for balancing the books every month.

We also briefly discussed that when/if any of the large marketing outlets become interested in our calendar, at least 2 people should negotiate/review any contract arrangement between the 2 parties (one person preferably with knowledge of contractual law).

BT will coordinate the volunteer group for selling calendars at the International Holiday Festival. The festival will be held on Sunday, November 22. If you would like to help sell calendars at this event, please call Buck Trawicky at 241-2392.

Distribution: To date, 46% of the calendars have been distributed. We need people to help open/sort mail and generate invoices for the large number of calendar orders we receive at this time of year. If you are interested please call RAS at 241-0845.

Next meeting is on Monday, November 2, at 7:00pm in the home of Prudence Barber, 1050 Jennifer St., Madison. (251-0852).

THANK YOU THANK YOU
THANK YOU THANK YOU
THANK YOU THANK YOU

I would like to thank the following people for attending the one and possibly only packing party this calendar season which was held on Friday, September 18th at Weiner's Warehouse. Pat Halpin, Helene Pesche, Troy Rutter, Alan Weiner, Buck Trawicky, Rose Ann Scott, Prudence Barber, Terry Stark, and Hannah and Sharon Lewandowski packed a total of 2,545 calendars into 1,335 envelopes.

An invoice and several brochures were also stuffed into each envelope before being carefully sealed and properly stamped. This was no small accomplishment for 11 people!!!!!!

Thank you one and all.
Peace Corps-Chamber of Commerce Networking Committee

By Linda Eiler

The latest Madison Chamber Networking Happy Hour was held September 22nd at the Radisson Hotel. Our table was located next to the door as people came in, so lots of people came over to learn more about Peace Corps business programs.

Jody Moser attended and was a wonderful help. She brought an album with photos of her business assignment in El Salvador.

We met someone from Channel 27, WKOW TV (ABC) who gave us contacts to call at the station for free Peace Corps TV time. This could be a great opportunity for Madison RPCV for outreach to the community.

Also, we met the new General Manager of the Radisson Inn Madison which is located off Odana Road near West Towne Mall. He offered our local RPCV group free meeting facilities including free soft drinks, etc. This could be another good lead for the group which could afford better parking and meeting space for our monthly meetings.

We are often asked at these Chamber events for RPCV speakers to speak at various business and civic organizations regarding their Peace Corps experiences. Here's another way we can increase Peace Corps awareness in the community. Let us know if you are interested in sharing your Peace Corps experiences in this way.

The next Chamber Mixer will be January 21st at the Edgewater Hotel downtown. It should be very well attended. If you are interested in being a part of this very fun committee, call Jody Moser at 286-0204 or Todd Mudertak at 294-7498 to sign up.

He offered our local RPCV group free meeting facilities... with plenty of free parking

Note From Our Member at Large -Don Sauer:

Dear Friends,

This is to inform you that I will be leaving Peshawar, Insha’Allah, on Tuesday October 6. I will be going to Belgrade to look for work and live with my friend Julia. When I have addresses I will inform you.

Don’t worry about answering this message. I am dismantling my computer after sending this.

Best Wishes

Don Sauer

...and we all wish you well Don!

"our money...is helping those in need do some serious development work."

WHERE DOES THE $ GO?
I know, I know. You've been wondering what's happening to all our money, and haven't heard a thing. Well, not in THIS column, anyway. There have been other notes, and if you are not paying attention to them, you are missing out on the good things the group's been doing. Just because you don't see it here, doesn't mean our money isn't flowing along, helping those in need do some serious development work.

If you haven't heard of the Trickle Up Program (TUP, we fondly called it in the field - at least in MY town we did), you certainly missed a good opportunity while you were out in the field. (And if you're currently a PCV, LISTEN UP!) The following letter is not only gratitude for our latest contribution in April of 1998. It also gives a history I never even knew about TUP. The letter came from Suzan S. Habachy (sic), Executive Director of the Trickle Up Program.

"Thank you very much for the contribution of $600.00 to the Trickle Up Program... We are grateful to Rose Ann Scott for again recommending Trickle Up for this donation. Support from returned Peace Corps groups is especially meaningful to us, as Peace Corps Volunteers have played a key role in the growth of Trickle Up since the early 1980's.

"This support is most timely and significant as it comes just after the passing of Glen Frazier Leet, the co-Founder and co-President of the Trickle Up Program. Glen Leet lived a life devoted to the service of others and sought a goal no less than that of finding a way to end poverty. As you know, Glen Leet, in partnership with his wife, Mildred Robbins Leet, created and launched the Trickle Up Program in 1979 with $1,000 and a dream of making the world a better place. Nineteen years later, over 350,000 people have been touched and their lives improved.

"As per your request, we will keep you on our mailing list and send you periodic reports about our work and achievements...

"Your gift and belief in Trickle Up will help us fulfill our pledge to continue to work for his goal of reducing global poverty."

Letter from Madison Quakers and the people of My Lai,Viet Nam
In February, 1998, a grant was approved by the Returned Peace Corps Volunteers of Madison to fund one room for the future 20 room primary school for Son My (My Lai). On September 30, a ceremony was held in Son My (My Lai) village to celebrate the completion of the first two rooms of the future 20 room primary school. Construction was delayed until early this summer because of the lengthy paperwork process involved in any construction project in Quang Ngai Province. For example, paperwork needed to build a house in the area can take up to three years.

These first two rooms for the new primary school were made possible by a generous grant by the Returned Peace Corps Volunteers of Madison. The consistent support from the RPCV of Madison has allowed us, the Madison Quakers, to work in, and establish close ties between Madison and My Lai, Viet Nam. One example of the almost personal response by the people of Viet Nam to our projects in My Lai is a documentary produced for the 30th anniversary of the massacre at My Lai called "The Sound of the Violin in My Lai".

The original request by the People's Committee of Quang Ngai Province was for $5,100 to build one room for the new primary school. However, once the plans were drawn up and a more detailed cost estimate was made, it was discovered that two rooms would only cost $6,500. So instead of one room the grant from RPCV funded almost two rooms. Also, between the time the money was delivered and construction was begun on the school, the economic crisis in Asia occurred. One result of this was that the dollar is stronger and therefore the People's Committee had enough money left from building the two rooms to build a toilet for the new school.

On behalf of the Madison Quakers and the people of My Lai,Viet Nam, I would like to thank the RPCV of Madison, again, for the strong and consistent support of our projects in Viet Nam. I'm proud of our relationship and I look forward to working with you more in the future.
